COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1909.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

NAVY IS PREPARED TO CHASTISE ZELAYA

State Department Trying to Clean Up Doubtful Point Before Taking Final Action.

WAR SPIRIT SPREADING

Invasion of Salvador by Nicaraguans May Lead to General Uprising in Central America.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The delay on the part of the United States in taking action with respect to the killing, by order of President Zelaya of Nicaragua, of the two Americans, Groce and Cannon it developed today, is occasioned by the inability of the government to fix the exact status in Nicaragua of the slain men.

It was said that every effort was being made to learn whether these men were in fact members of the revolutionary army or whether they were acting on their own responsibility when they were captured. If it can be proven, as seems doubtful, that they were really responsible for the placing of mines for the purpose of blowing up troop ships of the Nicaraguan government and were acting in this matter on their own responsibility, their status would be very different from what it would be were they acting as a part of the revolutionary forces. It is this point that the state department is trying to clear up before it takes any aggressive action against Zelaya.

The American vice consul at Managua has been instructed to obtain all possible information on this subject.

Until this information is received it is doubtful if the United States will take any steps looking to the chastisement of Zelaya beyond putting itself in a position to act promptly should occasion require.

It is believed that plans for the concentration of the warships and marines on the Nicaraguan coast will continue and possibly show of force will stimulate the energies of the revolutionists and result in large accessions to their army from the disaffected portions of the country now held by Zelaya.

Marines Ready to Sail.

The navy department, it was announced today, is ready for any development growing out of the Nicaraguan affair.

Overtime work has resulted in putting the troop ship Prairie, now at the Philadelphia navy yard in a condition to sail any moment after Thursday with 400 marines who are immediately available for transportation to Nicaragua. If necessary this number can be increased within a few hours' notice to 700 or even 800.

Although the naval officials disclaim any knowledge of what the state department is doing in a diplomatic way in connection with the Nicaraguan situation, it is known that they are hourly in expectation of receiving orders to direct the Prairie to sail and they would not be in the least surprised

NATIONAL SPEAKERS AT BAPIST SESSION

FIELD WORKERS ALL OVER COUNTRY PRESENT.

Matters Pertaining to Church Work Discussed—Meeting Ends Next Friday Noon.

One of the most important Baptist conventions of the year, the annual field workers conference, convened yesterday afternoon at the Alta Vista hotel. It is a gathering of general field workers including state superintendents of missions general superintendents of home missions of the states between the Missouri river and the Pacific coast, and district secretaries of home and foreign missions. The object is to discuss matters of mutual interest.

While the deliberations of this body have great weight their actions are in no wise official so far as the church is concerned, but will merely be embodied in recommendations. The subjects under discussion yesterday afternoon and evening were altogether of a technical nature. Adjournment will be taken next Friday noon.

There is so much work to be accomplished that the delegates feel their time will be taxed to the utmost in order to conclude the business and have therefore declined all offers of entertainment. It is their intention to hold sessions morning, afternoon and evening of each day.

Prominent Speakers.

The speakers yesterday were: The Rev F. P. Haggard, of Boston, corresponding secretary of the American Baptist Foreign Missionary society; the Rev. L. C. Barnes, of New York and Chicago, field secretary of the American Baptist Home Missionary society, the Rev. Bruce Kinney, of Topeka, Kan, general superintendent of the southwest district; the Rev. C. A. Cook, of Spokane, Wash., district secretary of the Yellowstone division; the Rev. J M. Moore, of Boston, secretary of the American Baptist Forward Mission, the Rev. H W. Bowler, of Boise Idaho, Dr. I N. Clark, of Kansas City district secretary of the Foreign Missions of the Southwest district, and Dr C. A. Wooddy, of Portland Ore, general superintendent of the Pacific District of Home Missions. Other delegates in attendance are the Revs. F F. McCourtney, of Phoenix, Ariz, William B. Warner, Denver, Henry Williams, Des Moines, Ia. A W. Rider, Oakland, Cal.; D. D. Proper, Omaha; Frank Peterson, Minneapolis L. W. Terry, Tacoma; W C King, Sioux Falls; C. W. Parker, Portland, Charles A. Cook, Spokane; I T. Crawford, Parsons, Kan.; I. N. Clark, Kansas City; Wilson Mills, Omaha, and W. H. Bowler, Boise, Idaho.

PROMISES IMPROVEMENTS IN THE PHILIPPINES

MANILA, Nov. 24—At the Marble hall of the Ayuntamiente, once used for conference by the Spanish authorities, and now the chamber of the popular assembly, W Cameron Forbes of Massachusetts today took the oath of office as governor general of the Philippines, and delivered his inaugural address.

Governor Forbes is the fifth and youngest governor general since the United States instituted civil government here.

Improvement in the material conditions of the islands and the people was the keynote of Governor Forbes' address.

ONE-TIME GOLF CHAMPION IS APPOINTED ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF U. S. TREASURY

At right is William Loeb, collector of New York customs, and at left James Reynolds, late assistant secretary of treasury, now member of the tariff board.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—James Freeman Curtis of Boston, Mass., now United States district attorney and once intercollegiate golf champion of the United States, has been chosen assistant secretary of the treasury.

Announcement to this effect was made by Secretary MacVeagh today. Mr Curtis succeeds James B. Reynolds who resigned to become a member of the tariff board, and he will have special charge of customs matters.

Mr. Curtis is a graduate of Harvard, class of 1899. His appointment is in some respects akin to that of Lee McClung United States treasurer. Mr McClung gained fame in college as a halfback on the Yale gridiron. Mr. Curtis won prowess as a champion on the intercollegiate golf links.

He has practiced law since getting his degree from Harvard. He was assistant attorney general of Massachusetts under Attorney General Malone and resigned to become assistant under United States District Attorney Hill.

Mr. Curtis is unmarried and is about 33 years old, which, as Secretary MacVeagh expressed it, "is a little older than Alexander Hamilton was when he became secretary of the treasury." He will begin his new duties next week.

Collector Loeb of New York left for home today after concluding his conferences with President Taft and Secretary MacVeagh regarding the customs conditions at New York.

ELKS WILL BUILD NEW DINING ROOM

ADDITION, TO COST $10,000, FORMALLY AUTHORIZED.

Will Be Erected Over Roof Garden, for Use of Members and Ladies.

At a special meeting of the Elks association in the lodge room last night an addition to the present building, to cost $10,000, was authorized. This addition will be used as a ladies' dining room. All financial arrangements have been made, and the building of the structure is absolutely assured.

A. G. HOPKINS,
Exalted Ruler Colorado Springs Lodge No 309, B. P. O. E.

Plans and specification will be completed at once, and the new addition should be completed within four or five months.

While the suggestion that an addition was needed to the Elks Home was made a long time ago, it was not until about two or three months ago that the proposition came to a head, and a definite move made to bring the plans to completion. The Elks association, which is the holding organization for the lodge, will have charge of all arrangements.

The addition to the Elks Home will be erected to the south of the present building, on what is known as the roof garden. The dining room will be separated from the Home proper, in that it will have an entrance from Cascade avenue, making it possible to reach the place without going through the present building. With the addition, the local Elks will, it is said, have one of the finest homes in the country.

The decorations throughout the addition will be of a beautiful [illegible] following [illegible] the decorations in the famous hotels of New York, and a feature will be the lighting scheme, which will provide an [illegible] of natural light in the day time. The grill room will still be conducted, even after the proposed ladies' dining room is in [illegible]

WILL ADDRESS MASS MEETING NEXT SUNDAY

Dr. A. E. Kepford to Talk on Tuberculosis in [illegible] Church—Details Later.

Because of the great interest manifested here in the talks of Dr. A. E. Kepford, state tuberculosis lecturer of the board of control of the state institutions of Iowa, arrangements are being made by several ministers to have him address a mass meeting at one of the churches next Sunday. Definite plans will be announced later. Dr. Kepford, who goes to Pueblo this evening, last night gave his hearty indorsement of the local health department's efforts to secure the registration of tubercular patients.

He said that in New York and several other states, the registration plan has been tried out and found to be most practical. The best part of it is the fact that the patients themselves are not embarrassed, inasmuch as all records of tubercular cases are kept inviolate only the health officers themselves knowing of the patients and their addresses. This plan will be carried out in Colorado Springs. The registration idea is a preventive measure, and gives the health officers an opportunity, when a patient moves from a house, to have the place thoroughly fumigated and cleaned, and this, according to Dr. Kepford, is of the greatest importance in order to prevent the spread of the disease.

SOLON CHASE IS DEAD.

TURNEY, Minn Nov 23—Solon Chase, a celebrated figure in the days of greenback agitation, 30 years ago, died of heart disease, at his home at Chases Mills today He was 87 years old During the height of the greenback campaign Chase stumped the country as far as the middle west, driving a pair of steers hitched to a hay rack, from the rear end of which he delivered his speeches He was also the publisher of Chase's Chronicle a greenback organ.

REST AFTER EATING.

Experiments have shown that protracted [illegible] or deep sleeping, after eating, retards digestion, but that [illegible] called a superficial doze for a short time is highly beneficial, especially if followed by half an hour's light recreation.

The man who runs a factory works his employes, his machinery and his capital to the best advantage, by calculation, and it seems inconsistent that the same principle should not be applied to the most important business of life living. This does not mean that we should learn to live entirely by rule, for a certain degree of spontaneity, of abandon, even, is necessary to the best living. PERISHES IN EFFORT TO SAVE GRANDSON

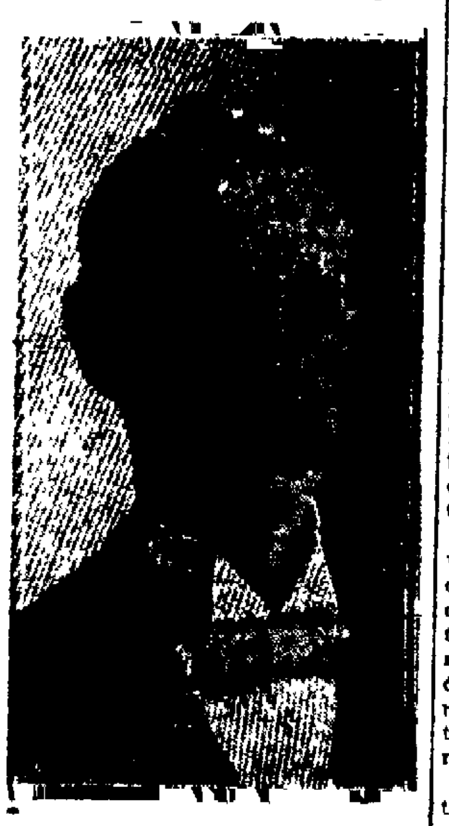
CONGRESSMAN DE ARMOND IS BURNED TO DEATH.

His Body Found in Ruins of Home With Arms Locked Around Dead Boy

BUTLER, Mo., Nov. 23.—In a vain effort to save the life of his little grandson, Congressman David A. De Armond of the Sixth Missouri district, perished in a fire that destroyed his home in Butler early today

The heroism of the congressman was made known late this afternoon, when, with his arms locked around the burned body of the little boy, the congressman's body was found. He had caught up the six-year-old lad, David A. De Armond, Jr., and rushed with him through the flames that filled his room. He fell with his unconscious burden, and both sank through the floor to quick death. What makes the tragedy unusually pathetic is the fact that the grandson was the grandfather's idol. The two were inseparable, and often slept together. Last night the boy went to his grandfather's home as usual, and after a happy evening the two retired.



DAVID A. DE ARMOND.

The [illegible] the family [illegible] was early today, when, from behind the smoke and flames that enveloped the house, the boy screamed:

"Oh, grandpa, get me out of here quick. I'm burning to death."

"Yes, [illegible] don't be afraid, grandpa will take you out," was the [illegible] reply.

LIBERALS THREATEN THE HOUSE OF LORDS

DENY ITS RIGHT TO REJECT BUDGET BILL.

Will Not Offer Compromise if Measure Is Defeated—Party Lines Closely Drawn.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—That the Liberal government is done forever with the present state of things and that the constitution and character of the house of lords must be modified, was the warning to the peers by Lord Pentland, secretary for Scotland, during the debate in the upper chamber on the budget tonight.

The debate generally followed party lines Lord Pentland gave another indication of the Liberal policy. His warning that the house of commons could not be expected to find a way out of the difficulty should the budget be rejected created the greatest interest in the lobbies of the house of commons, where it had been supposed the government might give way to the lords in the matter of adopting temporary financial measures to meet the situation arising from the rejection of the bill

Many Liberal members of parliament had, in fact, expressed their determination to contest any bill opposing the continuance of existing taxation until after the dissolution of parliament

Lord Pentland also reminded the lords that a long constitutional struggle might handicap the country in case of war and asked the peers to consider whether the penalty might not be disproportionate to the offense.

Earl Russell predicted that the adoption of the Lansdowne resolution to reject the budget would start a revolution that would sooner or later bring a readjustment that would leave the house of lords powerless.

Lord Avebury strongly criticised the budget He declared that it would frighten capital out of the country, cripple enterprise and create a feeling of insecurity.

Interest in the debate was well sustained. The house and galleries were again crowded and many peeresses were present. The Duke of Connaught sat beside Lord Rosebery

The debate did not reach any great oratorical heights and was principally remarkable as showing the likelihood of a number of peers in the free trade interest following Lord Cromer and declining to support Lord Lansdowne's motion to reject the budget although opposing the budget on general lines [illegible] Among them is Lord Lytton, who announced his intention of taking this course because there was no proof that the country opposed the budget.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT ANNOUNCES RULES

STRINGENT REGULATIONS TO PREVENT TUBERCULOSIS.

List of Suggestions Will Accompany Orders.—Co-operation of Public Needed.

Rules and suggestions, which if properly enforced, will minimize dangers of infection from tuberculosis, have been prepared by the Colorado Springs health department. After a list has been made of all the people in the city suffering from tuberculosis or other infectious diseases a copy of these rules will be sent to each patient.

Dr O. R. Gillett, city health officer, will issue the new rules in a few days and will thus establish the right of the health department to enforce them All physicians and householders are asked to co-operate with the health department in the enforcement of the new regulations The charter gives the department authority to issue such rules

"We must have the co-operation of the physicians and householders of the city, else the health department will be practically powerless," said Dr Gillett last night: "It is for the purpose of securing their co-operation that we are making out a comprehensive list of those suffering from tuberculosis, to whom will later be sent a copy of rules which must be strictly enforced. Lists of tubercular patients will be kept in the department offices and will be accessible only to the office employes.

Following are the rules which will be issued soon:

HOPE IS ABANDONED FOR 189 MEN IN MINE

Tunnels Collapse and Many Bodies Buried Under Debris, May Never Be Recovered

FIRE IS STILL RAGING

Rescue Party Has Narrow Escape. Diary of One Victim Pathetically Describes Slow Death.

CHERRY, Ill., Nov. 23.—Hope that there might still be alive some of the 189 men known to be entombed in the St. Paul coal mine was abandoned today. An exploration into what is known as the second vein, where it was thought probable many miners had barricaded themselves and had managed to exist on oats and corn provided for the mules, showed that great portions of the tunnels had collapsed.

It is believed many men were buried under the debris and if the obstruction is not soon cleared away at least 100 bodies may never be dug up. Fire was still raging in these tunnels and the back chambers where imprisoned miners could have found a retreat were said to be full of the fatal black damp.

"What little hope we had was given up when we penetrated what is known as the overcast," said W. W. Taylor, general manager of the mine. "In that place pure air would have been found if it could have been found anywhere, and the miners, aware of it would have retreated there. When we got into that place we found it empty both of bodies and of live men. We listened in vain to detect a signal or any other sign of life"

The death today of one of the survivors brought to the surface last Saturday reduced the total number of saved out of the 310 lost in the disaster to 19.

In the mine [illegible] were met with great obstacles. [illegible] out in a tunnel temporarily cut [illegible] off the escape of 25 men who had ventured 400 feet from the hoisting [illegible] The smell of smoke gave the warning above and the rescuers were reached and brought to safety by another rescue party.

Despite the fire and the falling in of the tunnels, the rescue work will be pushed night and day.

Diary Written by Victim.

A diary was found today in the clothing of one of the bodies taken from the mine yesterday The diary was begun on November 13, the day of the disaster, and was written by Samuel D. Howard, 21 years old. It describes the slow death of the men by the encroaching black damp and refers tenderly to Samuel's efforts to save his brother, Alfred, 16 years old, who died by his side. The diary follows

"Alive at 10 30 o'clock yet. By Sam D. Howard brother Alfred with me. A good many dead mules and men. I tried to save some but came almost losing myself. If I am dead give my diamond ring to Mamie Robinson The ring is coming at the postoffice. Henry can have the ring I have in my good clothes. The only thing I regret is that my brother could not help my mother out after I am dead and gone

"I tried my best to get out but could not. I saw Jim Jamieson and Steve Timke lying along the road and could not stand it any longer. It is five minutes past 11 o'clock and the air is fine, but sometimes it is so bad it almost puts a fellow's light out. It is something fierce to see men and mules lying down all over like that.

"To keep me from thinking I thought I would write these few lines, There is rock falling all over. We have our buckets full of water, sump water, and we drink it and bathe our heads with it 10 to 12 o'clock, 7 after 1 o'clock, 2 o'clock, 3 o'clock and poor air and black damp. 4:15 o'clock change of place Men tried to get out and could not get back. 7 50 o'clock, tired, hungry and sleepy but I could stand quite a bit of this if I could get out of this hole.

TURKEY GOOD, BUT OH YOU FOOTBALL!

Football fever pervades the air in Colorado Springs today. The only topics of conversation worth while are the Longmont-Terrors game and the D. U.-Tiger contest.

"Turkeys are good to eat," the fans admit, "but, oh, you football" they say.

General Agent W. H. Cundey of the Denver & Rio Grande road yesterday announced that the Colorado College special, which goes to Denver at 8.30 o'clock tomorrow morning, will not leave Denver, returning, after the game, until 11.30 o'clock If the Colorado College eleven is victorious, the Tiger will have time to perambulate around Denver city and scratch his claws on most every door mat in town before the conductor of his special train shouts:

"All aboard for home."

If the Ministers are victorious it is quite likely that the Tiger will feel more like slinking through the alleys from University park to the depot and crawling into the baggage car of the first train out of Denver.

Captain Cary's men are going to put up a great fight, and a 0-to-0 score would not be a surprise to the fans. The wonderful defense of C. C. is expected to resist the best that Duke Schroeder can put into his rushes, and it would not be surprising to see the game won by goals from the field, as was the case in the Boulder game here a week ago.

Professors Parsons and Griswold and McQuat of the student body went to Denver yesterday to investigate the standing of a number of D. U. players. Many protests have been considered by the Colorado College men, but it is unlikely that they will be able to accomplish anything Thus far, Hammil and Walker are the only two regulars barred by D. U. under the conference rules

The Tigers are working steadily, and are fit as a fiddle They will go up to Denver this evening or tomorrow morning Light signal practice and gymnasium work has put them in fine fettle this week, and they should put up the game of their lives tomorrow

FIRST CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES

ASSEMBLED IN NEW YORK MARCH 4, 1789.

Waited Four Weeks for a Quorum Tariff Bill the First Measure Considered

II THE EARLY CONGRESSES.

By Frederic J. Haskin.

The First Congress assembled in the city hall in New York on March 4, 1789 The constitution had been ratified by 11 states, although only 10 had chosen presidential electors. New York came into the new union after the presidential election, and Congress met first in that state The First Congress at the beginning, treated North Carolina and Rhode Island as foreign nations, but before the two years was ended all of the 13 states were under the wing of the constitution and had representatives and senators in Congress The first duty of the First Congress was to count the electoral vote and, under the rule then obtaining declare the person receiving the highest number of votes to be President and the person receiving the next highest to be vice president, each elector having voted for two persons.

The Congress met on March 4, but there was no quorum in either house The presence of 12 senators and 30 representatives was necessary to organize the new government Day after day the two houses met and adjourned. Letters were sent out imploring the indifferent members of Congress to hasten to New York The newspapers confidently predicted that the government devised by the constitution could not be operated because it would be impossible to get a sufficient number of men to serve in Congress After four weeks of weary waiting the necessary 30 was obtained and the House of Representatives, on April 1, organized by electing Frederick Augustus Muhlenberg to be speaker Five days later Senator Richard Henry Lee of Virginia arrived the Senate then had its necessary dozen members, and the Congress was organized

The two houses met together and canvassed the vote of the electors and declared George Washington President and John Adams vice president, of the United States of America. Mr. Adams was sworn in at once and began to preside over the Senate. Messengers were dispatched to Virginia to inform General Washington and request his attendance at New York It was a six days' journey from Manhattan to Mt. Vernon then—it is six hours now. General Washington hastened to New York, and on April 30 was inaugurated President and this government was formally organised.

First Tariff Bill.

But Congress had not waited for a President or an "annual message." It had already begun to legislate for the infant government On April 8, the day after the electoral vote was canvassed, the House took up legislative work. The very first movement toward law making in the American Congress was the introduction, two weeks before George Washington became President, of a tariff bill It was presented in the form of a resolution by James Madison, a representative from Virginia, the "Father of the Constitution" and afterward twice President of the United States This tariff bill was short, only 66 words being required to state its proposals to place a specific duty on liquors, sugars, tea, coffee and cocoa, and an ad valorem duty on all other articles The amounts were left blank, and the bill was referred to a committee The first tariff law the outgrowth of this bill, was approved on July 4 1789 Lo, we have the tariff with us always!

The debate on that first tariff measure is quite as interesting today as it was then Mr Madison of Virginia one of the fathers of the Democratic party, made the first tariff speech He declared, in substance, that all taxation was burdensome and onerous, that all trade ought to be as free as possible and that the only reason or justification for import duties was the necessity of raising revenue for the federal government, direct taxation being quite out of the question Then having emphasized his advocacy of a tariff for revenue only, he admitted that he was not unmindful of the fact that even a revenue tariff would afford under certain conditions, incidental protection to certain industries The Democratic party has been accused of triming and twisting and turning with relation to the tariff question but a careful study of Mr. Madison's first speech will acquit the party of the charge That pronouncement proclaimed the doctrines advocated by Jefferson, Calhoun, Pierce, Morrison Mills, Cleveland and Bryan, as well as justifying the exceptional stands taken by Jackson, Cushing, Randall and Bailey

Objected to Tax on Rum.

Mr Madison and his Virginia notions met with instant opposition Mr Elias Boudinot of New Jersey objected to the imposition of a tax on rum, declaring that the people of northern New Jersey consumed great quantities of imported spirits, and that if the proposed tax, of 10 cents a gallon was levied, it would compel the Jersey people to purchase the raw native spirits from the Pennsylvania stills

Whereupon arose sundry representatives of the state of Pennsylvania, demanding that the tariff on spirits be placed at 15 cents a gallon, or "as high as can be collected" for the protection of Quaker stills They submitted protectionist arguments and supported their position by presenting a petition from the Philadelphia paper mills praying for a high tariff on paper to protect the American-made product from the pauper labor and the more abundant rags of Europe

Mr. Madison rushed into the breach with a compromise measure supporting the demand for the "outrageously" high tax of 15 cents a gallon on spirits, but opposing the paper schedule Such was the gist of the first day's debate in the annals of the American congress It appears that the law-makers have not developed great originality in argument since that time, although notions of size have expanded in the ratio of the growth of the country. When the first Congress was quarreling over a tariff of 10 or 15 cents a gallon on rum what would have happened if some seer had appeared to predict the rates of the present day, when spirits are subjected to a tariff duty of $2 25 a gallon in addition to an internal revenue tax of $1 10? Can one imagine the consternation?

The house at first selected its committees by ballot but in 1790 it invested this power in the speaker—the beginning of the development of the power of the speakership and the present legislative system In the Second Congress Jonathan Trumbull was made speaker During his term the birth of the political parties took place and in the Third Congress the Anti-Federalists defeated him and elected Muhlenberg by a small margin over Theodore Sedgwick of Massachusetts, the Federalist choice In the Fourth Congress the Anti-Federalists had a small majority but there was a split in the party —the first of a long line—and the Federalists succeeded in electing the speaker, Jonathan Dayton of New Jersey Dayton was re-elected for the Fifth Congress.

In the Sixth Congress the Federalist majority elected Theodore Sedgwick speaker He was a violent partisan and an implacable foe of Democracy He cast the deciding vote which placed the Sedition law on the statute books and thereby struck the blow which forever lost control of Congress to that social and political aristocracy, which he loved so well He was the center of the first great congressional battle.

THANKSGIVING DAY RACES

A feature of the Thanksgiving day races at Roswell park tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock will be a match race between Albert Peterson's "Fox" and Ed Pring's "California Favorite for a purse of $100, Peterson is proprietor of the San Rafael stables, and Pring is also a well-known horseman The race is for one-quarter of a mile In addition to this event, there will be two other running races and several motorcycle contests.

TERRORS HAVE EVEN CHANCE TO WIN CONTEST

Betting will be even on the Longmont-Terrors game tomorrow afternoon at Washburn field for the state interscholastic football championship The Pie Eaters have the best of the locals in weight, but the Terrors are more agile, and are better drilled in new football

Tomorrow's football fest will be an open-style game from start to finish, at least so long as the Terrors have the ball Onside kicks have been responsible for practically all the Terrors victories this season, and Quarterback Kampf will rely largely on this play to bring the local High School another pennant

The Terrors are in prime condition to put up the fight of their lives. In Webber and Ady the locals have a corking good pair of ends, and they are reliable in handling forward passes. Cheese who will do the punting for the locals, has yet to meet his match in the kicking department His punts not only go farther than those of his opponents, but they are higher, and are placed with better judgment.

Tickets for the game, which will begin at 2 p m., sharp, are on sale at the Denver & Rio Grande and Colorado & Southern city ticket offices, Hughes cigar store and Lucas' sporting goods store

PETITION COMMANDER

Civil War Veterans Make Formal Application to Start New G. A. R. Post

The petition of the old soldiers of Colorado City for a charter for a G. A. R. post, which is to be called the "W. J. Palmer Post," was sent yesterday to Department Commander J. W. Wingate of Durango. There are 32 survivors in this city of the Civil war, and they hope to have the charter ready by December 15, when they are planning to hold a campfire meeting and banquet. It is probable that the first meeting will be held in the Opera house, and it is planned to have a number of the prominent G. A. R. men of the state present at the installation of the new post. Justice B. F. Irvin has been influential in the starting of the post, and hopes to have the approval of the state officers within three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Phelan have returned from a month's visit with relatives in Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Orr leave today for Denver, where they will spend a few days with friends and relatives.

Jake Hamel has returned to his work in the Golden Cycle mill after a two weeks' layoff, due to a sprained ankle.

Mrs. L. Matkin of 208 Colorado avenue left yesterday for M[illegible], where she will spend the winter with relatives.

The Yeomen have made arrangements for a social entertainment for their next meeting, which will be held Monday evening.

Mrs. Mary Hopkins, who has been visiting for the last few days with Mrs. J. A. Trout at 510 South Fifth street, has returned to her home in Cripple Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Giles Priest, who have been visiting friends here, are in Denver for a few days, and will return for a short visit before proceeding to their home in Clay Center, Kan.

Mrs. A. Shroeder of Boulder is visiting Mrs. Frank Drew of 132 Monroe avenue for a few days. Mrs. Schroeder's husband will arrive in the city tomorrow for a short visit.

The Women of Woodcraft met last night in regular session to discuss the "Nemdoow," and the part which they had in it. The country store, on the night they had charge, netted them over $75.

The Rev. G. Clifford Cress, who will preach the Thanksgiving sermon at the union services for Colorado City, which are to be held in the Baptist church, has announced that his lecture will be a historical sermon on Thanksgiving.

Mr. and Mrs. William Huffaker, who have been visiting for the last few days with Mrs. J. L. Bates at 236 Colorado avenue, have returned to their home in Oklahoma. They are planning to return here in a few days and make their permanent residence in this section.

The entertainment to be given this evening by the Knights of Pythias promises to be one of the finest held in lodge circles for some time. A number of invitations have been issued outside of the regular members, and the program will be given as previously announced.

The choirs of all the churches met last night in the Baptist church to rehearse their Thanksgiving music, which will be given tomorrow morning at the union services in the Baptist church. According to the plans, the music at this meeting will excel any heard in Colorado City for some time.

Charles Bunton of Terre Haute, Ind., who has had considerable trouble in leaving whisky alone for the last week, was arrested late Monday night for the second time charged with disturbance. He was given a long jail sentence to keep him quiet until a permanent job is secured for him.

Miss Della Goodwin, daughter of Mrs. J. F. Goodwin of 918 Lincoln avenue, and Charles E. Howarter of Arickaree, Colo., were married Sunday by the Rev. G. B. Stewart of Colorado Springs. They left for a short visit in Arickaree, and will return in a few days to make their home here. Mr. Howarter is employed at the Midland shops.

According to Postmaster Morgan, the cracksmen who robbed the Bloomfield, Colo., postoffice Monday morning, are very likely the same ones who robbed the local office of $2,900 in stamps on October 28. The methods of both robberies were identical, and indications point to the same men on both jobs. Nothing has been heard of the men who robbed the local office, although the federal officers have been working on the case.

Saturday evening, a number of old soldiers surprised B. F. Irvin at his residence and spent the evening helping the Judge celebrate his 80th birthday. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Morse, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Keiser, Mr. and Mrs. D. Lacey, Mr. and Mrs. D. Stark, J. W. Donaldson, Miles Standish, Mrs. Frances Morris and Miss Mildred Drew.

The sewer extension on the west side, which was ordered several weeks ago, will be finished by the latter part of the week, and the residents in this section will be given a chance to connect with it next week. The district comprises the territory between Tenth street and the alley east of Eighth street, extending from Colorado avenue to Monroe avenue and requires about 4,000 feet of pipe line.

THREATENS SUIT FOR INHERITANCE TAXES

State Treasurer Wants El Paso County to Pay Over Palmer and Gardiner Funds.

State Treasurer W. J. Gallaghan announces that he will make a demand on County Treasurer E. B. Simmons of this city for money amounting to $77,420.89 due the state in inheritance tax from the William J. Palmer and the Jane Hogg Gardiner estates. If the money is not forthcoming at once, it is understood, suit will be brought to recover it. The Palmer inheritance tax amounts to about $70,00, while the Gardiner tax is about $7,000.

When asked about the matter last night, County Treasurer Simmons said that he believes there must be an error in the report that the state treasurer will start suit to recover the money.

"The law provides that remittances of inheritance tax be made twice a year, on October 1 and April 1, at which times the inheritance tax collected for the preceding six months is turned over to the state. To the best of my recollection, the tax in these two cases was collected last November, so that it is not due to the state, according to law, until next April. I have received no letter requesting that the inheritance tax in these cases be turned over, but if a proper request is made it could probably be arranged to make the transfer of the funds at once, especially if the state is in need of money. However, there are two small suits recently filed in the district court in connection with the Palmer estate and no remittance can be made in this case until the litigation is settled."

One of the suits referred to is that in which the Palmer executors appealed from a decision of the county court, denying their request that $23,000 be deducted from the estimated value of the estate on the ground that this amount was paid in inheritance tax to the states of New Jersey and New York on stocks held there by the estate. In the other case, the attorney general has appealed from the county court's ruling that $25,000 should be deducted from the value of the estate on the ground that that amount was paid out in the maintenance of Glen Eyrie, which is more a public park than private property.

LARGER BATH HOUSE THAN EVER PLANNED

New Manitou Mineral Springs Result in Elaborate Arrangements for Improvements.

As a result of the opening of the two new mineral springs near the Mansions hotel in Manitou, F. P. Ernest of Denver, principal owner of the hotel, has announced that he will begin work soon upon the erection of a bath house, to be situated near the hotel, which will be much larger and better equipped than the one which was first planned. The construction of the bath house had been contemplated for some time, but it was not until the [illegible] decided to build such an elaborate structure as is now projected.

The bath house is to be completed by the opening of the tourist season next spring, and will be entirely modern. The new springs are highly magnetic, and, according to reports of experts, there are other springs hidden in this immediate locality. A number of Manitou owners have announced that they will investigate their property in the near future. If new springs are found, Manitou will become noted to a greater degree for its mineral waters than ever before.

Officers from Pueblo arrived last night for the prisoner, and he was taken back to face the charge.

Fred Morrison, son of Mrs. H. J. Morrison, proprietor of the Brookside hotel, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Constable C. E. Kimsey on a charge of beating and kicking Charles Forest, an employe of the Standard mill. Forest, who swore out the warrant, is a splendid prosecuting witness, for his eye is badly bruised and his head is cut in several places. Morrison will be given a trial in a few days, probably in Justice B. F. Irvin's court.

DENVER IS RID OF TICKET SCALPERS

DENVER, Nov. 23.—The Railway Ticket Protective bureau today made a report officially announcing that "Denver has finally been rid of ticket scalpers."

Turkish Bath Cures Rheumatism at Home

Costs But 2c a Bath, and the Body is Rid of Uric Acid Poison, With Astonishing Rapidity.

Quickly Cures Kidney Trouble Nervous Prostration and All Skin Diseases.

The Robinson Thermal or Turkish bath, taken at home is becoming a rage. Those who have used the bath have been completely carried away with enthusiasm because of the astonishing results obtained.

Well-known physicians say that the Robinson Thermal Bath at home, is about to become an almost universal conqueror of disease. This is not an exaggeration. Any man or woman can prove its results inside of 24 hours, in some cases 30 minutes.

In cases of rheumatism, especially, the uric acid poison is extracted from the system through the pores, almost as liquids are sucked up through a straw. Drugs merely smother the poison or ease the pain. They do not extract the poison from the body.

Anyone can now take Robinson Thermal baths at home at a cost of only about 2c a bath. The only way to take these baths is by the use of the Robinson Thermal Bath Cabinet, which is a unique and marvelous invention.

The Robinson Thermal Bath Cabinets can now be seen and examined in Colorado Springs at the Robinson Drug Co., the D. Y. Butcher Drug Co., the Murray Drug Co., the Phillips-Smith Drug Co.

Ask the dealers also for a copy of that great book, "The Philosophy of Health and Beauty." The regular price is $2, but you can get one free now for only a limited time.

If you cannot go yourself, just send your name and address to the Robinson Manufacturing Company, Suite 57, Snowflake Bldg., Toledo, O., for full illustrated information, free.

MANY TURKEYS COMING

High Price Does Not Prevent Large Shipments, According to Express Official.

That, notwithstanding the high price of turkeys, Colorado Springs is going to have its usual quota for Thanksgiving day consumption proves that the city is prosperous, and W. W. Cowen, local agent for the Wells-Fargo company, is authority that this is a fact.

"There are so many of them coming," he said yesterday, "that a whole carload from Texas got lost in the shuffle." Mr. Cowen will himself dispose of not a few of the birds. It has long been a custom of the Wells-Fargo company, on Thanksgiving day, to present each one of its employes who has been in the service of the company for six months or longer with a large turkey, and this year will be no exception to the rule. The list of the lucky persons was made up yesterday afternoon. They are, A. P. Kouns, N. A. Alexander, M. L. Boss, J. F. Castlebury, W. W. Cowen, E. D. DeGroot, J. W. Griener, L. Helfrich, George L. Kaple, C. C. Baldwin, John R. Hall, J. R. Hilton, C. W. Jeter, E. T. Love, F. G. Monck, F. H. Stall, H. H. Sloan, Henry O. Troller, E. W. Wheeler and William Jones.

GLAVIS NOT EXAMINED.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 23.—The government virtually concluded the examination of its witnesses in the Alaska coal land investigation today, and it is probable that the Seattle sitting will be concluded tomorrow, when the special commissioner will adjourn the hearing to Spokane. Although L. R. Glavis, former chief of the field division of the general land office here, has been a constant attendant at the hearing, he was called on by the government only to identify a letter written by him to J. M. Sheridan, the government attorney.

BACKACHE GOES AND KIDNEYS ACT FINE AFTER TAKING A FEW DOSES

No man or woman here whose kidneys are out-of-order, or who suffers from backache or bladder misery can afford to leave Pape's Diuretic untried.

After taking several doses, all pains in the back, sides or loins, rheumatic twinges, nervousness, headache, sleeplessness, inflamed or swollen eyelids, dizziness, tired or worn-out feeling and other symptoms of clogged, sluggish kidneys simply vanish.

Uncontrollable urination (especially at night), smarting, discolored water and all bladder misery ends.

The moment you suspect the slightest kidney or bladder disorder, or feel rheumatism pains, don't continue to be miserable or worried, but get a fifty-cent treatment of Pape's Diuretic from your druggist and start taking as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine, at any price, made anywhere else in the world, which is so harmless or will effect so thorough and prompt a cure.

This unusual preparation goes direct to the cause of trouble, distributing its cleansing healing and vitalizing influence directly upon the organs and glands affected and completes the cure before you realize it.

A few days treatment of Pape's Diuretic means clean, healthy, active kidneys, bladder and urinary organs—and you feel fine.

Your physician, pharmacist, banker or any mercantile agency will tell you that Pape, Thompson & Pape of Cincinnati, is a large and responsible medicine concern, thoroughly worthy of your confidence.

TO MAKE MERRY TONIGHT

Elks Will Hold Social Session to Raise Funds for Trip of Band to Detroit.

"What's good enough for the President is good enough for us," is evidently the motto adopted by Elks lodge No. 309, for possum is to form the chief food at the banquet in connection with the social session of the order tonight. Of course, there will be other delicacies, but the "possum will be supreme."

Besides the banquet, there is to be an unusually good time provided in the form of amusements. One of the chief speakers of the evening will be K. L. Fahnestock, past exalted ruler of the Leadville Elks, who notified the committee in charge, yesterday, that he will be present. The social session is held to help raise funds to help defray expenses of the Elks band on its trip to the grand lodge session at Detroit, next July.

All arrangements for the good time tonight have been completed. The evening will open with a short concert by the Elks band, beginning at 8 o'clock. Following this there will be songs, stories, dances, boxing, a saxophone quartet and Fink's celebrated "Rube" band.

CELEBRATES TONIGHT

Local M. W. A. Camp Will Commemorate Tenth Anniversary of Its Founding.

The tenth anniversary of the founding of Camp No. 7,[illegible], Modern Woodmen of America, in Colorado Springs, will be observed by that body tonight in its hall, at 20 East Pikes Peak avenue. An interesting feature will be a mock trial, in which the legal talent on one side will all be tall, thin men, and on the other, short, fat men. J. L. Mayfield of Granada, Colo., state consul for the M. W. A., will be present as a speaker. The good time will commence at 7:30 o'clock, and a literary and musical program has been arranged.

J. C. Hass, known as "The Billiken" of the camp, will be the prisoner at the mock trial, charged with drinking too much city water, and Senator Arthur Cornforth the judge. Mrs. Alva Bird is on the program for a reading.

Societies and Clubs

The regular monthly missionary meeting of the First Cumberland church will be held this afternoon at the church. The meeting will consist of a Thanksgiving program and offering. All interested are invited.

The Eagles will not meet tomorrow night, as has been announced, on account of its being Thanksgiving. The next meeting will be held December 2, when the annual election of officers will be held.

The Modern Woodmen of America, No. 1,007, will meet this evening at 16 East Kiowa street, where it will be addressed by State Deputy Roberts.

The American Yeomen of Columbine homestead will give a Thanksgiving social Friday evening in their hall.

Harmione temple No. 1, Pythian Sisters, will meet this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in K. P. hall, for the regular election of officers.

The Dorcas society of the Swedish Lutheran church will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. P. Anderson, 1722 Colorado avenue. All members and friends are invited.

Westminster guild meets this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Hildreth, 1018 North Weber street. All young ladies of the Presbyterian church are urged to be present.

The Colorado College Foresters club will meet this evening in the polytechnic library. A program consisting of a discussion of outside photography and the black locust will be the feature of the evening.

A regular meeting of the social science department of the Woman's club will be held in the San Luis school building this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Papers will be given by Mrs. Gertrude P. Peifer, Mrs. Marguerite Schreiber and Miss Martha Lindley.

A meeting of the Jr. O. U. A. M. will be held this evening at Robbins hall. Business of importance will be transacted.

PERISHES IN EFFORT TO SAVE GRANDSON

The financial loss is $20,000, including one of the best libraries in Missouri.

Congressman De Armond and his little grandson will not be separated in death. To night it was decided to hold a double funeral for them Friday afternoon. Interment will be in Oakhill cemetery here.

Word was received from Washington tonight that a congressional committee had been appointed to attend the funeral. Among the messages of condolence received was one from Speaker Cannon.

From Washington, President Taft sent this message to Mrs. De Armond:

"Mrs. Taft and I are shocked to hear the dreadful news. We sympathize most deeply with you in your sorrow. Your husband and I were very intimate. I valued his friendship most highly. He was an honest, able servant of the public and a patriot. My heart goes out to you in your loss."

David DeArmond was first elected to the House of Representatives from the Sixth Congressional district of Missouri in 1891, and served continuously since. He was a Democrat and a well-known lawyer. He was born March 18, 1844, in Blair county, Pennsylvania.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—In Mr. De Armond the Democrats lose one of their leaders on the floor of the House. A member of that body for the last 19 years and a man of education, wide experience and fluent speech, he had become one of the principal resources of his party in all discussions of national questions. He made a specialty of labor subjects but was never at a loss in handling almost any question.

Mr. De Armond had been on the bench before coming to Congress and of the committee on judiciary and had held that post for many years.

While Mr. De Armond will be long remembered for his brilliant oratory and he naturally gave much attention to judicial subjects. He was a member especially for his power of sarcasm and capacity for invectives, he also will long be known on account of his qualities as a party fighter.

Inclined to be pugnacious, he often pleaded subjects as an aggressor rather than as a defendant. This quality of mind was the means of getting him into a personal altercation two years ago with John Sharp Williams, then Democratic leader of the House.

The difference between them arose over Mr. Williams' designation of a Missouri coleague of Mr. De Armond's for a place in the organization of the Sixtieth Congress. They came to blows, but both being lightweights, neither was badly hurt.

Mr. De Armond was an aspirant for the leadership of the House, but the recognition of Mr. Clark effectually cut him out of that position.

PROPERTY OWNERS SEEK DAMAGES

PUEBLO, Colo., Nov. 23.—The overflowing of Lake Minnequa last fall, and the resulting inundation of city and private property is cause for suits aggregating $10,000 which were filed today against the Colorado Fuel and Iron company, owners of the lake. The sums asked are to cover damages caused by the flood.

As a general rule roots extend on each side of a tree to a distance equal to the height of the tree itself.

REGISTRATION OF TUBERCULARS.

NO BETTER time than the present could have been chosen to put into effect the charter provision for the reporting to the Health Department of all cases of communicable disease. Within the last month the exhibit held under the auspices of the local branch of The Colorado Committee for the Prevention and Control of Tuberculosis has brought this subject forcibly to the attention of the public. Thousands of people who previously had given it little or no attention were made to realize its importance, and many of these have enrolled themselves as paying members of the association.

The educational work accomplished through this medium materially lessens the amount of such work yet to be done in order to bring about the complete co-operation between the people and the Health Department which is essential to the success of the movement. Of course, some trouble will be encountered at first, but the plan is so reasonable and so obviously designed for the public welfare that the opposition is sure to vanish when the matter is fully understood.

The rules formulated by the Health Department require all householders to report to the Department the names of persons living in their houses who are suffering from tuberculosis or other communicable disease. The Department is to be notified when such person leaves the house or moves to another room, and all rooms so occupied are to be disinfected under the direction of the Department. Physicians are likewise required to report to the Department the names of all of their patients suffering from tuberculosis or other communicable disease.

SUGGESTIONS WHICH SHOULD BE FOLLOWED. Accompanying the notice sent to the householders is a list of suggestions, some of which are not enforceable by law but all of which are based on scientific knowledge and sound common sense. For instance, the use of sputum cups is recommended and promiscuous spitting is denounced. Householders are advised not to allow consumptives to sleep under bed covers that can not be boiled, unless they are protected by a long sheet folded back over the covers. The use of individual drinking cups is recommended.

The rigid enforcement of these rules will place Colorado Springs on the firing line in the battle against tuberculosis. Instead of doing practically nothing, officially, to combat the disease, as has been the case in the past, it will soon be conducting an energetic campaign such as is approved by the best scientific authorities and has been found effective wherever tried. Moreover, the application of these methods will have a distinct commercial value to the city, for the fact can be advertised broadcast that here we are actually doing something to protect healthy people from infection as well as to cure those who are already afflicted. It is a movement that should have been started long ago and now that it is begun it should be conducted with vigor and persistence.

WHERE DELAYS ARE DANGEROUS.

THE Interstate Commerce Commission has so often and so convincingly proved its value in regulating freight rates that it would seem only the part of wisdom to invest it with executive power to enforce its orders promptly and effectively, or at least to create a court in which cases arising out of its rulings could be given speedy adjudication.

Giving the Commission arbitrary executive power might conceivably lead to injustices of which the affected railroad companies could well complain; but there can be no argument against the establishment of a court for the special purpose of passing upon the Commission's orders in cases of protest by the railroads. The decisions of such a court should be final, and if it were given sufficient authority in the settlement of questions affecting interstate commerce the heavy handicap under which the Commission now labors would be in large part removed.

As the matter stands now, though the Commission may issue an order for a reduction of rates where immediate relief is needed, the railroad company involved, merely by taking the matter into court and employing dilatory tactics, can delay final adjudication of the case for a long period. In one case, if we remember correctly, a decision of the Commission reducing a rate which was manifestly exorbitant was held up for fully two years. And in the meantime, in all such cases, there is no power by which the railroad can be compelled to put into effect the schedule ordered.

The subject is brought prominently to mind by a decision of the United States Circuit Court for the western district of Pennsylvania this week, sustaining the demurrer of the Interstate Commerce Commission asking dismissal of the suit brought by the Baltimore & Ohio and other railroads to enjoin it from enforcing a tariff order on coal freights. Considerable time has elapsed since the order was issued and it is quite within the power of the railroads further to delay its enforcement by bringing other actions. Legislation to remedy this defect is imperative and of the several enactments which President Taft has stated he will recommend to Congress none has better claim to immediate attention.

Germany may be forced by the shortage of home production to remove the embargo on American meats that has been in effect since the revelations of a few years ago regarding packing house methods. Such action would sweep away about the last argument raised by the meat magnates in condemning President Roosevelt. The agitation "hurt business" certainly, but it gave the people of this country better meat and eventually will improve the export trade of the packers.

Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh is said to be displeased because the Civil Service Commission told the public how many men had been dismissed from the New York customs service before his department had made up the list. The cares of state must be making Mr. MacVeagh a bit peevish.

President Seth Low in his opening address at the convention of the National Civic Federation said that the past year has been notably free from industrial disturbances. Things have been running so smoothly in Uncle Sam's domain recently that their absence has scarcely been noticed.

There is nothing so wonderful about the performance of the hypnotist in Pennsylvania who put a subject to sleep over the long distance phone. It would be an everyday occurrence if people didn't get exasperated and hang up the receiver.

THE "BOYS" ARE GONE NOW.

From the New York Evening Post.

That almost all the Confederate and Union generals have now disappeared from the scene is perhaps not so surprising as that many of them survived for so many years after the great struggle in which they won their honors. But the Civil War, it must be remembered, was fought by boys. It is related of General John Sedgwick who was killed at fifty, that two years before he was familiarly known as "Old Uncle John," because of his extreme age. His oldest staff officer, a lieutenant colonel, was but twenty-seven; the ages of the rest varied from twenty-five to eighteen. General Howard himself was thirty at the outbreak of the war, and Sickles thirty-six. General Wesley Merritt, after Sickles the most distinguished Civil War veteran on the retired list of the army, was only twenty-five in 1861. Sheridan was thirty and General Miles twenty-two when he went to the front as a captain. In striking contrast is the rapid disappearance of the prominent figures of the Spanish War, a phenomenon recalled by the death last week of Major General Elwell S. Otis. Generals W. R. Shafter, Fitz Hugh Lee, Joseph Wheeler, Guy V. Henry, Henry C. Corbin, William Ludlow and Henry W. Lawton have gone, in addition to Captain Philip, Rear-Admirals Sampson and Taylor in the navy, and the commander-in-chief, William McKinley. The war with Spain was fought by men well on in years and was so brief that only a few younger men like Theodore Roosevelt, Leonard Wood and Frederick Funston could come to the front. How rapidly the old army of 1861-1864 is now disappearing appears, too, from the pension figures, forty-five thousand Civil War veterans dying in the last fiscal year.

ENGLAND'S DIVORCE COMMISSION.

From the New York Globe.

The appointment by King Edward of a royal commission to inquire into the condition of the divorce laws, especially as they affect the poorer classes, is a momentous step. Its significance, however, is not likely to be appreciated in this country; for the peculiar situation that exists in England is foreign to our experience. Here there are courts all over the country, in every part of each state, that have the power to grant divorces, whereas in England only the central courts have such powers with the result that a divorce action is more or less of a luxury, beyond the reach of those in narrow circumstances.

Perhaps it will be thought that it should remain a luxury, and this might be true were it not that persons who feel that they have grounds for divorce, yet are unable to pay for it, take the law into their own hands, and a sort of marital anarchy is established, while illegitimacy and illegal cohabitation are increased. This, at least, is the contention. Whether or not there are sufficient grounds for it, the investigations of the royal commission should make clear.

These investigations will certainly be followed with the utmost interest in England. A year ago, when, as a result of the position adopted by the Church of England, the divorce question was so widely agitated, there was perhaps no point upon which the blows rained so freely and fiercely as that of the alleged discrimination which the law makes in the divorce facilities of the rich and the poor.

EXTINCTION OF AMERICAN SIMPLICITY.

From the Detroit News-Tribune.

The average man of 40 years ago got through the year with one or at the most two suits of clothes, and thought he was doing very well. The average woman had perhaps two gowns for dress-up, and for common use she wore calico. Her hats and bonnets were modest creations. She thought herself decently clothed for all occasions if she possessed one-quarter of the present woman's wardrobe. If we enter the home of 40 years ago we find the heating facilities represented by a sheet-iron stove, which burned chunks of wood as the means of warming the sitting room. The kitchen with its steady fire commonly served as a living room and dining room, as well as the place for preparing food. One cheap wood fire cooked the meals and warmed the family, and perhaps a big sheet-iron drum traversed by the stovepipe warmed a bedroom on the second floor. The heads of the house had the warm bedroom if the house afforded it. The other members thought they had much to be thankful for when they went to their icy sleeping rooms if they were fortified against the zero temperature with a heated soapstone or a brick wrapped in paper and flannel to warm their beds.

A good kerosene lamp was considered sufficient to afford reading light for a whole family. For going to bed or about the house, candles were regarded as cheaper and safer.

The family bathroom with its luxurious appointments was a rare luxury.

The family of an earlier generation did not buy its food from day to day, paying the long prices for measure and weight that does not always correspond. The mainstay of subsistence was a barrel of pork, a keg of corned beef, a kit of mackerel, a codfish or two, a bin of potatoes and a barrel or two of flour, a bag of sugar, often yellow or brown for economy's sake, and a crock each of butter and lard in the pantry.

It is impossible to persuade the average man to abandon all the modern comforts of city life and practice the strict frugality of other days. It is apparent to any intelligent man that if it absorbs his income to live up to the modern standard, he has little chance of accumulating capital by saving. The average man and woman enjoys modern living. It is one of the things which attracts people from the farm to the city life. Those who are willing to sacrifice comfort and consent to be declassed by their equals for so doing will get ahead and achieve some degree of independence, but the majority will choose the other way, even if it promises to bring them to old age without an adequate provision for their future maintenance. The majority prefer to be vassals with a warm bathroom rather than wash their faces in a tin basin on the back porch and break the ice in severe weather to get at the water. People are leaving the land at a rate that creates apprehension, and they are not going to flock again until grim necessity compels.

THE AGE OF INVENTION

No wonder that one's spirit freezes! They're always finding new diseases to rob us of our breath; each day the scientists affright us with something new that ends with "itis," and scares us half to death. In olden times the ills were simple; they ranged from jaundice to a pimple; and simple was the dope; the doctor came, as smooth as satin, and spoke some words in bughouse Latin, and bade us keep up hope. He'd prop us up and mildly jolt us by putting on a linseed poultice, or he would feed us pills; and then he'd soak us for a dollar, which maddened us until we'd holler, and thus forget our ills. In those old days, in mem'ry cherished, we seldom of a sickness perished; we'd live till bent and gray; as old, old men we'd drool and drivel, until like Autumn leaves we'd shrivel, and like them blow away. But now, when we are feeling dizzy, the learned physicians all get busy, and stand around our bunk, and feel our pulse, and prod and smite us, and say we have some blamed old "itis;" all itises are punk. Then one of them his weapon greases, and saws us into three-inch pieces, regardless of our squeals; he takes us all apart, and pokes us, and sews us up again, and soaks us for seven hundred wheels.

The Daily Chit-Chat

Five girls in my personal acquaintance have been married during the past month. And as that probably means at least 5,000 in my newspaper acquaintance, I am going to make today's Chit-Chat just a little talk to all those girls who have passed through the portals of marriage and are just entering upon one of the hardest years of their lives.

"Hardest?" I hear those 5,000 brides echo indignantly. "You mean happiest?"

Yes, perhaps I do mean happiest, too, but I also mean hardest.

And I think I'll add most important.

For this is the year of adjustments and according as you—and the man manage its adjustments, meet its crises, fulfill its obligations and solve its difficulties you lay the foundation for a happy or unhappy married life.

All of us know that the brother and sister who have been brought up in the same house, with more or less the same habits, the same tastes, the same way of looking at things, the same intimate little family customs, quite frequently have difficulty in getting along together.

Is it any wonder then that two people who have been brought up with totally different tastes and customs and habits and ways of looking at things, when they come to share a daily existence should occasionally find points on which they differ?

It isn't any wonder at all. It is simply inevitable.

And the only way to evolve out of such a situation a happiness that will not mean the complete submergence of one or the other personality, is simply for each to make up his mind that he is going to try to put himself in the other's place when any debate comes up.

"He ought to be enough in sympathy with me to fall in with my moods," I heard a woman say once complaining that her husband was frequently melancholy when she wanted to be gay, and light-hearted when she felt serious.

Apparently it never occurred to that woman that her husband might think she ought to be enough in sympathy with him to fall in with his moods.

You often hear young brides say, "It isn't that I mind Tom, Dick or Harry's doing that thing so much. It's simply that I'm hurt to think he should persist in doing it when he knows I don't like to have him. It doesn't seem to me that he can love me as he used to."

I wonder that it never occurs to the ladies that perhaps Tom, Dick or Harry is saying, "It isn't that I care so much about doing that thing. What I mind is having my wife persist in objecting to it when she thinks that I want to do it. It doesn't seem as if she could care very much for me when she opposes my wishes like that."

Did you ever hear what George Eliot said about friendship

"The only way to have a friend is to be one."

I think it's quite the same way about happy marriages

"The only way to have a generous partner is to be one." RUTH CAMERON.

Potato Chowder. Peel and chop fine one large onion; dice six peeled potatoes and one-quarter of a pound of ham. Put the ham and onion in a pan and fry slowly until brown. Cut the potatoes, ham and onion in layers in a saucepan, sprinkling them with one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, salt and pepper. Add two cupfuls of water, cover and simmer for twenty minutes; add two cupfuls of scalded milk, stir in one tablespoonful of flour and one tablespoonful of butter rubbed to a paste. See that it is well seasoned, simmer a minute longer and serve.

Little Caramel Puddings. Into a clean dry frying pan put one-half of a cupful of granulated sugar and set on the side of the fire where it will melt slowly. No water is to be added, and by the time the sugar is entirely melted the syrup should be of a clear, golden brown color. If the fire is too hot the syrup will be too dark and the burnt flavor too pronounced. Have ready some small cups or thimble molds. Pour a little of the caramel in each, turning them round and round in order to coat the sides and bottom as evenly as possible. The amount given should be sufficient for five or six small cups. In a bowl break four eggs, add four tablespoonfuls of sugar and beat enough to mix well. Add one pint of milk and one teaspoonful of vanilla and stir occasionally until the sugar is dissolved. Then fill the molds, set them in a pan of warm water and bake in a moderate oven until they are firm in the center. If baked too fast they will be full of bubbles. When done pass a knife around the sides and turn out on individual plates. The caramel, uniting with a portion of the water in the milk serves to form the sauce. Serve cold.

WHO CRACKED THE BELL CLAPPER, ASKS RICHARDS

A quiet investigation is being conducted by Principal J. R. Richards and several of the instructors at the High School, to learn, if possible, the names of several boys who Saturday damaged the bell in the tower so that it will no longer ring. The bell was broken immediately following the football game between the Terrors and the Lamar High school, in which the local school boys proved themselves superior to the visitors. An examination of the bell, which is attached to the clock, showed that the clapper was cracked. This was done by several boys pounding it with a hammer.

SHERIFF AFTER M. THOMAS, PIKE VIEW COAL MINER

In an altercation with his wife, said to be due to his attempted assault on his stepdaughter, Milton Thomas, colored, yesterday morning attempted to club her over the head with his rifle, but, in swinging the weapon to deliver the blow, smashed the door and, incidentally, broke the stock off his gun. The altercation occurred at the Thomas home, in Pike View. Sheriff Birdsall went to Pike View to arrest Thomas, but the latter had already made his escape. Thomas is a coal miner, and is about 32 years old.

MORTUARY CHAPEL TO BE COMPLETED SOON

Handsome Structure, Which Cost $10,000, Will Be Ready in Two Weeks.

Work on the new mortuary chapel at Evergreen cemetery is progressing rapidly, and the structure will be completed in two weeks. The building, which is of stone, consists of one story and a basement. The total cost will be $10,000.

The new chapel, which will add greatly to the beauty of the cemetery, is located near the entrance to the cemetery grounds. The first floor will be used as a chapel, and will have a seating capacity of 100. The basement will be fitted up as a vault and will accommodate 36 bodies.

The need of a mortuary chapel in the cemetery has been felt for years. Funerals are frequently held there, and in inclement weather persons attending the services experience great personal discomfort.

LITTLE WATER ADDED

Recent Heavy Snowfall Did Not Materially Swell City's Reservoir Supply.

Despite the fact that the recent snowfall in the mountains was 20 inches on the level, the city water system is receiving very little water as a result. Practically all the snow is gone from the south side of the hills, and the water meters show that there was no perceptible increase in the flow as a result of the melting snow.

"I'm a rain man and not a snow man," said Water Superintendent B. B. McReynolds yesterday, in explaining why snowfall produces so little water in the mountains; "the heavy wind storms which constantly sweep the mountains near the summit evaporate the water from the melting snow, so that very little of it runs into the reservoirs. Of course, we have plenty of water, but the recent snow contributed very little to the increase of the water supply."

ROSS LEASES ANOTHER TRACT OF COAL LAND

Expects to Find Oil and Gas in Vicinity of Colorado City.

In addition to 65 acres which were leased Monday, J. W. Ross, whose plans to seek for coal and oil west of the Garden of the Gods were announced yesterday in The Gazette, yesterday closed a deal whereby an additional tract of 160 acres, adjacent to the Kinsman property, now owned by Paul Goerke, was included in the lease. Mr. Ross left yesterday afternoon for Denver, where he will confer with his brother, Charles H. Ross, concerning further plans for the development of the region. It is said that if there is sufficient encouragement from the drillings, a company will be formed for the development of the territory.

The hopes of finding oil and gas in this section are based upon the reports of experts who have stated that the coal is of the best bituminous cannel variety and that in many cases where this is present, oil and gas have been found. Mr. Kinsman, while drilling several weeks ago, struck a stratum of gas of a peculiar odor, which blows off with no small amount of pressure. Attempts to ignite this gas failed, and leave the conclusion that some current of air had been struck.

As soon as the drillers can get to work, it will be known whether the land contains oil and gas. Two veins of coal have been found, and the drillers expect to encounter a third before they get down 200 feet.

DEATH ENDS 12 YEARS' SERVICE OF FIRE HORSE

"Clyde," 17-Year-Old Department Veteran, Was Relegated to Last Alarm.

What is believed by the firemen to be the first death of man or beast in the department in 12 years, occurred yesterday afternoon when "Clyde," an old-time firehorse, succumbed to colic. He died at No. 2 fire station in the northern part of the city several hours after he was taken sick. As he was an extra horse, it is not likely that another animal will be purchased to take his place. He was on the department for 12 years.

For a month or two Clyde, who was 17 years old, had been used on a water wagon. In his earlier days he was on the fire department and was classed as one of the fastest animals in the work. Yesterday morning he was taken sick and a veterinary surgeon, who was called, worked with him nearly all day. The efforts proved futile and shortly before 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon the animal died.

While many firemen and horses, who had been on the fire department, died after leaving the service, this, it is believed, is the first case where a horse in actual service has died. There are a number of firemen on the department who were on when Clyde was purchased. To them the news of the old horse's death brought a feeling of sadness, for it was like hearing of the end of some old comrade.

MORE IMPROVEMENTS

C. E. Maddocks Announces Proposed Erection of Five Bungalows on Two Sites.

C. E. Maddocks, who has just completed 35 houses in Ivywild, has purchased two new sites in this city on which he proposes to erect five modern bungalows. One of the lots, situated at the corner of Cache la Poudre and Weber streets, was bought of Mrs. Ida E. Keener through the agency of the National Realty company for a consideration of approximately $5,500. The other, which is a lot in the 800 block on North Wahsatch avenue, Mr. Maddocks bought from the Davie Realty company. The latter deal was negotiated by the State Realty company.

MORE CHILD LABOR?

School Authorities Receive Many Requests for Pupils to Leave and Go to Work.

School officials are beginning to feel alarmed over the rapidly-increasing number of requests on the part of children to work instead of attending school. It is urged in nearly all of these cases that their labor is necessary to the support of the family. The difficulty, which is not typical of Colorado Springs alone, has practically been met in many cities by charitable organizations paying over to the parents a sum equivalent to what the child would earn.

WILL RAISE FUNDS FOR NEW BUILDING

HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY DEVISES WAYS AND MEANS.

Dr. D. H. Rice Elected President, and F. W. Homan Succeeds Secretary F. F. Horn.

The Colorado Springs Horticultural society, at its adjourned annual meeting last night at the court house, determined to establish a fund with which to carry out its plans of erecting the building which was to have been given by the late Gen. William J. Palmer. As a beginning, it was decided to increase the membership dues from $1 to $3 and to set aside 50 per cent of all receipts for this purpose.

Officers to serve for the following year were elected. Dr. D. H. Rice will succeed J. F. Humphrey as president, and F. W. Homan will replace Fred F. Horn as secretary. The other new officers are: Dr. W. W. Arnold, first vice president; J. F. Lilly, second vice president; W. W. Williamson, treasurer, and Fred A. Horn, John Berry and Edwin Pierce, members of the schedule committee.

The work of the last year was reviewed, and it was seen that although the year was an unusually hard one on account of the destruction of foliage by hail, and the treasury depleted so that it shows but a balance of only a few dollars, nevertheless much has been accomplished in the line of work for which the organization stands.

A new set of by-laws was drafted and will be made public by the secretary as soon as they have been put in definite form. There was a good attendance.

OPERETTA GREAT SUCCESS

One of the most enjoyable entertainments ever given by Colorado College was the presentation of "Princess Bonnie," Spencer's operetta, by the junior class at Perkins hall last night under the direction of Miss Evelyn Shuler.

The student company was well coached and the piece was so excellently played that it would have been difficult for the most exacting critic of amateur dramatics to pick a flaw in it. It was sung to a large audience and proved to be a decided success.

Miss Vesta Tucker and Roy Kirkpatrick, the principals, acquitted themselves with especial honor. Miss Tucker was presented with a large bouquet of roses.

"WHAT'S IN A NAME?"

"What's in a name?" —

B. Rosenblatt, who, in May, 1906, was married in this city, is desirous of answering the time-worn question in the divorce court, at Pueblo. Suit for divorce has been filed by him, in which he alleges that his wife made life a burden to him by persisting in using the name of her first husband after their marriage. It is also charged by the plaintiff that his wife left him for a trip to Pennsylvania, and has failed to return.

if other war ships were ordered to the Nicaraguan coast. Everywhere in the state and navy departments there is a feeling of expectancy, everyone believing that the United States is about to take a decided step with respect to Nicaragua.

Reports from the commander of the Des Moines in regard to the effectiveness of the blockade of the revolutionists at Greytown, Nicaragua, and from the commander of the Vicksburg as to the situation at Corinto, were received at the navy department today. They were transmitted to the state department without being made public by the navy officials.

Can Use Part of Canal.

WASHINGTON, Nov 23.—Five miles of the Panama canal have been opened to navigation. This includes the channel from the point in the bay of Panama. Steamships plying between San Francisco and Panama and the west coast ports of South America and Panama are using this part of the canal.

Should the Buffalo go to Panama for marines to be transferred to Nicaragua, this part of the canal would be utilized.

Revolution Is Spreading.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 23.—A dispatch from Port Limon, Costa Rica, says that passengers arriving at Punta Arenas report a great movement of troops in Salvadorean ports. It is said Gen. Prudencio Alfaro is at the head of 1,000 Nicaraguans. This expedition is said to be well armed and equipped.

The arrival of Don Luis Alonso Barahona, the ex-candidate for the presidency of Salvador, is momentarily expected, and he will join with Alfaro and Figueroa as one of the revolutionary chiefs.

The revolutionists are said to be in possession of Castillo Viejo.

In a San Jose paper it is predicted that the invasion of Salvador by Nicaraguans may precipitate a general uprising in Central America. Following is the situation in Salvador:

If Alfaro is beaten the troops of Salvador and Guatemala will march through Honduras to attack Zelaya. If Alfaro succeeds, a revolution in Guatemala will be assured.

Scores of applications from Americans for service in the Estrada army in Nicaragua are being received by his officers, according to Consul General Sussman representing the provisional government in New Orleans. None of the offers has been accepted on account of the neutrality laws. Most of the applications are from the gulf states.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT ANNOUNCES RULES

ment when a tubercular person leaves your house or moves to another room.

3. To have such rooms disinfected under the direction of the health department before they are again occupied. This will be done by the health department for the cost of the formaldehyde used.

Recommendations.

The following suggestions will be sent with the rules:

1. Do not allow anyone to spit on the lawn, walks, or elsewhere about the premises.

2. Insist on the use of sputum cups by anyone who expectorates.

3. Have the contents of the cups burned or allowed to stand in strong disinfectants for four hours.

4. Never allow a consumptive to sleep under covers that cannot be boiled unless they are protected by a long sheet.

5. Always change bedding for a new occupant.

6. Never allow a consumptive to cough in your face or over your food or dishes.

7. If consumptives must drink at your hydrant insist on them having their own cups.

8. It is better for no one to sleep in the same room with a person having consumption.

DANIEL M'CAFFREY DIES.

Daniel McCaffery, a clerk in the auditing department of the Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek District railroad, died early this morning at his home, 902 Colorado avenue. Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock today in the parlors of the Fairley and Law Undertaking company, 218 East Pikes Peak avenue, the Rev. Henry Rutgers Remsen, pastor of the Grace Episcopal church, officiating. The body will be taken to Denver for burial. Rev. Mr. Remsen will accompany the body to that city.

TESTIFY FOR WARFORD

Evidence for Defense Given in Murder Trial After Denial of Motion to Dismiss Case.

CANON CITY, Colo., Nov 23.—In the district court today Judge Campion denied the petition of the defense in the Warford murder trial for a dismissal of the proceedings and the hearing of testimony for the defense was begun. Among the witnesses examined today were former Sheriff Bell of Cripple Creek, Tom C. Brown, Jack Allen, O. W. Totter, Fred Berryman, A C. Coole, J H. Todd, T. M. McDonald and Ernest Freeman.

The most important testimony was that of Tom. C Brown, who was the deputy sheriff with Warford at the time of the killing of Ike Liebo and Chris Miller on election day at Goldfield, Colo November 8 1904

Brown claimed that Warford shot in self-defense and that Liebo and Miller were drawing their guns when Warford shot them. He said that it was his own intention to shoot when Warford shot and relieved him from that necessity.

When the Stomach Stops

Working Properly, Because There Is Wind In It, Use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to Set It Going Again.

A Trial Box Free.

THE DOCTORS call it flatulency, but unprofessional folks know it as "wind on the stomach," and a most distressing state of things it is. It is a serious condition of this great motor organ. Always annoying and painful in the extreme, at times often leading to bad and fatal results. The stomach embarrassed and hampered with wind, cannot take care of its food properly and indigestion follows, and this has a train too appalling to enumerate. The entire system is implicated—made an active or passive factor in this trouble and life soon becomes a questionable boon.

ALL THIS IS EXPLAINED in doctor books, how undigested food causes gasses by fermentation and fermentation in which process some essential fluids are destroyed—burnt up—wasted by chemical action, followed by defective nutrition and the distribution through the alimentary tract of chemically wrong elements and as a consequence the stomach and entire system is starved. Plenty of food, you see, but spoilt in preparation and worse than worthless.

A DERANGED STOMACH is the epitome of evil, nothing too bad to emanate from it, but the gas it generates is probably its worst primary effect and the only way to do away with this is to remove the cause. STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS go to the root of this trouble. The attack the gas making foods and render them harmless. Flatulency or wind on the stomach simply cannot exist where these powerful and wonderworking little tablets are in evidence.

THEY WERE MADE for this very purpose to attack gas making foods and convert them into proper nutriment. This is their province and office. A whole book could be written about them and then not all told that might be told with profit to sufferers from this painful disease, dyspepsia. It would mention the years of patient and expensive experiment in effort to arrive at this result of failures innumerable and at last success. It would make mention of the different stomach correctives that enter into this tablet and make it faithfully represent all.

STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS are not alone intended for the sick, but well folks as well; for the person who craves hearty foods and wants to eat heartily and run no risk of bad effects, they act like a charm and make eating and digestion a delight and pleasure. They keep the stomach active and energetic and able and willing to do extra work without special labor or effort. Don't forget this. Well people are often neglected, but the STUART DYSPEPSIA TABLETS have them in mind.

A FREE TRIAL PACKAGE will be sent any one who wants to know just what they are, how they look and taste, before beginning to eat with them. After this go to the drug store for them, everywhere, here or at home they are 50 cents a box and by getting them at home you will save time and postage. Your doctor will prescribe them; they say there are 40,000 doctors using them, but when you know what is the matter of yourself, why go to the expense of a prescription? For free trial package address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Building, Marshall, Michigan.

P. S. Better send today for samples of the tablet. You will get quite a box of them.

JOHN JACOB ASTOR SAFE

Doubt Dispelled by Receipt of Mail From His Yacht in New York Yesterday.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The Astor yacht puzzle is solved. Mail from Colonel John Jacob Astor and his party reached New York today on the Insular Line steamer Harry Luckenbach, which sailed fom San Juan, P. R., November 17.

On that date an officer from the yacht Nourmahal came aboard the Luckenbach with mail just before the latter sailed for New York. This officer told Captain James Dalton of the Luckenbach that the Nourmahal was to sail next day for some Cuban port. At the time, according to Captain Dalton, the Nourmahal was safely at anchor and showed no signs of damage.

The positive assurance that the Nourmahal was safe at San Juan on November 17, just a week ago, practically ends a 19 days' search.

MORSE GIVEN RIGHT TO SEEK NEW TRIAL

U. S. Court of Appeals Grants Petition of Banker Under Sentence to Prison.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The United States circuit court of appeals today granted the motion of Martin W Littleton, counsel for Charles W. Morse, for the right to apply to the United States circuit court for a new trial for Morse

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Morse is a federal prisoner in the Tombs, awaiting the outcome of a legal fight to avoid the 15 years' sentence imposed as the result of his trial for "violating the banking laws."

In granting the petition, seeking an amendment to the circuit court mandate which affirmed Morse's conviction the court of appeals states that the circuit court is not bound to entertain a motion for a new trial. The simple right to apply therefor is granted.

Mr Littleton's efforts to obtain a new trial have been based on charges of irregularity in the conduct of the jury which found Morse guilty. It is alleged that certain jurymen were under the influence of liquor and that the entire jury was in charge of improper guardians, six of whom were former secret service men from Washington.

FIVE LIVES LOST IN TENEMENT FIRE

NEW YORK, Nov. 24 (Wednesday).—Five persons were burned to death in a tenement house fire in Brooklyn early this morning. The building was occupied by 11 Italian families. Besides the dead, eight Italians were seriously burned.

MOYER DOES NOT EXPECT TROUBLE TO SPREAD

DENVER, Nov. 23.—Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners, said today that he did not expect that the impending trouble at the Homestake mine, at Lead, S. D., will involve any other districts in which the miners are organized.

RIVERS OUT OF BANKS

Melting Snow Causes Disastrous Floods in Eastern Oregon and Washington.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 23.—Practically every river, stream and creek in Oregon is cut out of its banks and from all parts of the state come reports of damage.

In eastern Oregon the rain was accompanied by a wind of almost hurricane violence, which has resulted in considerable destruction. In eastern Washington conditions are much the same, though the rainfall is not so heavy.

The greatest damage apparently has been done along the Willamette river.

In this city the water has covered the lower wharves and several log rafts have been torn from their moorings and lost in the mass of debris passing the city. The loss of logs will amount to many thousands of dollars.

All along both banks of the Columbia river between here and The Dalles landslides have tied up traffic.

The manufacture of children's feeding bottles or fittings from rubber containing zinc or lead is prohibited by law in Japan.

WAITS ON HIGHEST COURT

Standard Oil Will Not Change Its Methods Before Final Decision Is Given.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The Standard Oil company announced authoritatively today that it had no intention of seeking amendment to the Sherman antitrust law, but will proceed with the appeal to the United States supreme court from the decree of the United States circuit court at St. Paul.

Until the supreme court has rendered a decision the company will consider no other plan of doing business than the methods now in use.

Mortimer F. Elliott, general solicitor of the company, authorized this statement after a conference with William Rockefeller and John D. Archbold.

There were 470 boiler explosions in the United States last year, one less than the year before, but they cost 281 human lives.

Stability!

Waltham Watches are as perfect in material and construction as anything can be—yet a perfect watch may leave the factory and be damaged in transportation.

WALTHAM WATCHES

A jeweler will recognize and repair any such damage before he sells the watch. The moral is—Never buy a watch from anyone but a regular jeweler.

N. B.—When buying a Waltham Watch always ask your jeweler for one adjusted to temperature and position.

What the Press Agents Say

MR. CLEOPATRA AND THE LIVE 'SARPINT.'

Some people manage to see snakes sometimes without going to a vaudeville entertainment, but no snake ever observed under such circumstances has the charm that attaches to the big reptile which Cleopatra—known on the hotel registers as Mr. Bothwell Browne—is exhibiting this week at the Majestic in the feature act of the greatest vaudeville show ever brought to Colorado Springs.

BOTHWELL BROWNE,
The King of Female Character Impersonaters, at the Majestic This Week.

It might better be said that the big reptile attaches to the charm—for Mr. Cleopatra is certainly a charm—and the sarpint's forked tongue is the means by which, after the proper amount of agonies, Cleopatra sinks dying to the floor and murmurs "Stung." And the way Cleopatra dances in front of that snake. She dances rings around him, or her, or it, and a lot of other things which the English language doesn't exactly describe. Anyhow, she hypnotizes the viper as completely as the original Cleo put the Indian sign on Marc Antony.

Marc, incidentally, is there with the real thing in the line of death scenes himself. With a huge sword he pierces his heart, while ribbons of blood bespeak his fast-ebbing life. Then he lies down to die, and after he assures Cleopatra that he is dead, the man-lady assassinates herself. The whole act is perfectly killing, even though the black slave of Cleopatra is alive when the curtain falls. If you want to laugh and laugh and laugh and laugh, see it.

"THE TOP O' TH' WORLD."

"The Top O' The' World," to be seen at the Opera House next week, we are told, is filled with clever people and with rollicking, legitimate fun, to say nothing of a bevy of famous Casino girls. For six months this musical extravaganza has been presented in New York city at the Majestic and Casino theaters, and for a like period at the Studebaker theater, Chicago. There are 24 songs and dances, and among them are noted "The Busy Mr. Bee," "The Collie Ballet," "How'd You Like to Be My Bow-wow?" "Why Don't You," "Yankee Doodle Yarns," and "Cupid, and You and I," sung, danced and admirably handled by that funny pair, Bailey and Austin, as clever a duo as ever trod the musical stage.

The comedy is said to be refined and appealing, and is in the hands of a clever combination of men and women. There is little horse play and much of genuine humor depicted. Bailey and Austin and the principal comedian, Charles Harris, have been in the past, vaudevillians. This type of actor has to "make good." The class is treated with severity by theater patrons because they perform alone without the surroundings and background that help musical comedy comedians so, and the metropolis has seen fit to place the stamp of its approval on their funmaking, and it will now be submitted to the critical mercies of this city. The book is by Mark E. Swan, lyrics by James O'Dea, the music by Manuel Klein and Anna Caldwell. It is staged by Frank Smithson and the dances are by William Rock and Signor Luigi Alberlieri.

ADVANCED VAUDEVILLE AT THE OPERA HOUSE TODAY

"The best vaudeville entertainment ever given in the city for the money," is the way Manager Nye describes the show that opens at the Opera House this afternoon for four days. This bill is headed by a well-known actor, Mr. Joseph Callahan, in his original creation entitled "Great Men of the Past and the Present," presenting speaking likenesses of the world's famous, making up and costuming each character in full view of the audience. The following characters will be presented today: Abraham Lincoln, delivering his famous Gettysburg speech; Emperor William II., General Robert E. Lee, Shakespeare's Shylock, famous American humorist, Mark Twain, and his holiness Pope Leo XIII. The company also includes the popular singer, Mr. Bob Albright, known as the "Man Melba," a marvelous range of voice, singing three and one-half octaves. The other acts are equally as strong. Prices will be 10, 20 and 30 cents.

A NEW COLLEGE PLAY.

The college girl will have her inning at the Opera House when John Cort's elaborate "Commencement Days" plays there on next Monday evening.

While many things are said for "Commencement Days," as a play, its qualities of dialogue and construction are reported to be overshadowed by the beautiful bevy of girls that crowd the stage. Thirty girls in a dramatic show was heretofore unheard of, but there are just as many in "Commencement Days," and each one is entitled to a position in the beauty gallery gallery. The striking things about it all is that those girls are so different from those who frisk and beam through musical comedies. There is nothing mechanical about these girls.

Mr. Cort has assembled a superior cast for "Commencement Days," the principal member of the company of 50 being Frederick V. Bowers, the singer, comedian and song writer. Elizabeth Van Sell, an eastern favorite, who is making her first appearance in the west in this piece, is seen in the leading feminine role, that of Kate Wells, president of the graduating class of Colton college, where the scenes of the play are laid. Others prominent in the cast are Grace Hopkins, Amy Dale, Leila Smith, Catherine Carter, Willard Louis, E. F. O'Connor, "Tip" Smith, H. A. Morey and Edmund Mortimer.

A NEW MUSICAL COMEDY.

The intangible yet dependable barometer of public sentiment which no one can define, yet which exists beyond question, indicates a record-breaking house at the Opera House next week, when the Harry Askin company's new musical comedy, "Lo," the book and lyrics of which are by O. Henry and Franklin P. Adams, and the music by A. Baldwin Sloane, will be seen.

John E. Young, who is popular here from his performance of Happy Johnny Hicks in "The Time, the Place and the Girl," is the featured member of the cast, while Juliette Lange, a Chicago girl with a wonderful mezzo soprano voice, who has just returned from Paris, where she has been studying with DeReszke. Elizabeth Goodall, Annette Hall, David Kirkland, Mabel Moyles, Robert Wilson and James A. Reynolds will also be in the cast.

"THE BEST MAN WINS" AT THE CRYSTAL

Another of those live western comedy dramas. Charles Shea, foreman of the Bar X ranch, has won the love of Alice Graham, daughter of his em- gram announcing the death of his ployer Young Shea receives a tele- father He starts for the east at once, promising to return as soon as the estate is settled. However, a year passes and no word has been received from him. Alice is in despair. Every cowpuncher on the place loves her madly, but she refuses them all, declaring that she will wait for Charles. Her father is growing old and needs someone to take his place and insists that she accept the attention of one of the boys of the ranch, that she can learn to love. She pleads that the trouble lies in the fact that she likes them all, and if she names one, the rest will feel hurt, etc. Finally, she resolves to give up waiting for Charles and decides on a plan to pick the best man from a standpoint somewhat removed from the heart. Her husband must be a good horseman, so she informs the boys that at 8 o'clock sharp the next morning everyone of them must be in the saddle ready for a swift and important ride. She lines them up and tells them they are to race to the county seat, procure a marriage license, and the first man back will have the honor of being her husband. She cracks the pistol and the race begins. Each one is trying the utmost speed of his pony, until the court house is reached, the license secured and the real race back to the ranch is begun. In the meantime, a big, handsome fellow, Charles Shea, drops off the "limited," walks over to the court house and secures a license to wed the lovely Alice, hires a horse and sets off for the ranch, having learned that the other fellows were on a similar mission. He remembers a short cut to the ranch and hopes thereby to put his horse there ahead of the others. He rushes madly through rocky defiles and surging mountain torrents, and arrives at the ranch several minutes ahead of the cowboys. A minister is waiting and the result you may easily guess. The chagrin of the others soon melted to laughter at the joke and a rousing cheer for the bride, all agreeing that the "best man won." It is a peach; don't miss it. Another romance running through a fine war story, will hold your interest from start to finish. Then there will be a Thanksgiving story and two others besides. Special music for the occasion. In fact, the best program you ever saw.

"THE TOP O' TH' WORLD"

George H. Murray, advance manager of "The Top o' th' World," the big comic opera success, was in town yesterday finishing all details for the appearance of this attraction at the Opera House Saturday matinee and night, December 4. Mr. Murray says the production here will be as complete as that given in the largest cities, with a company of seventy-odd people.

JOHNSON-KETCHEL FIGHT.

On account of the great interest which is being manifested by the public in the Johnson-Ketchel fight pictures, the Fairyland will open Thursday morning at 9 o'clock, so that everyone may have a chance to see this great fistic battle.

News of Local Courts

The suit of Dr. H. P. Daniels against Scott Davis for medical services has been reset for hearing on November 29. Davis claims that Dr. Daniels did such a poor job in setting his broken arm that the arm is now practically useless, and that he may file a counter charge against the physician.

W. L. Morrow, one of the leaders of the Williamites, has been summoned to appear in Denver in a suit to recover property belonging to Cannie Palmer, a lunatic of Castle Rock. It is claimed that Morrow has a title deed, gold watch and chain, ring, pony and $300 in money belonging to the Palmer estate.

An inventory of its assets is being prepared by the Century club for submission to Judge Ira Harris, the assignee of the club. Judge Harris will file his inventory with the county clerk today or Friday.

Charged with conducting a gambling house, Dick Bassett and Alfred Dobbs, both colored, were arrested yesterday on a warrant sworn out in Justice Dunnington's court by J. E. Reed. Bassett was fined $50 and costs in police court, recently, for gambling. Both were released under bond in the sum of $200 to appear for trial Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

Justice Dunnington yesterday discharged J. E. Thomason, who was charged by A. D. Cirtwell with stealing a horse.

The jury in the district court has been excused until next Tuesday, when J. W. Privett will be tried on a charge of conspiracy in connection with the Golden Cycle ore stealing cases, last spring.

The suit of Anna Hunt against the city of Colorado Springs for $1,000 for injuries which she is alleged to have sustained as the result of a fall on a defective sidewalk on North Nevada avenue, was yesterday continued in the district court until next week.

Judgment by default for $3,295 was awarded to F. H. Pettingell in the district court yesterday against the Golden Dale Mining and Milling company. The suit was brought by Pettingell to recover the principal and interest on money loaned the company.

J. E. Leslie, a ranchman living in eastern El Paso county, was yesterday discharged in Justice Toombs' court on a charge of selling mortgaged cattle. The costs, amounting to $60, were assessed against the complainant, H. W. Stevens of Calhan. Stevens and Leslie were formerly partners in the stock business, and Stevens admitted that he gave permission to Leslie to sell three head of cattle, valued at $55. Leslie had previously mortgaged the cattle to Stevens.

Charged with the theft of two loads of corn, Henry Mohler, a member of the Williamite sect, will have a hearing in the district court this morning at 10 o'clock. J. B. Schooler is the complainant.

Harry Muire, solicitor for the Ruo, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of violating the hotel solicitors' ordinance. He will have a hearing in police court this morning.

MINERAL LADY WRITES ABOUT

The Best Tonic She Ever Used in Her Family—Cardui, the Woman's Tonic.

Mineral, Tex.—"I have a few words to say," writes Mrs. A. J. Hale, of this place, "on the merits of Cardui as a tonic.

"I have used it in my family and have found it to be just as represented.

"It is certainly the best tonic I have ever used, and I hope that my words will lead some suffering lady to try it."

If one lady, out of the thousands who read this letter of Mrs. Hale's, will try Cardui, her letter will not have been written in vain.

Will you be that lady?

Remember you will really be trying no experiment. Cardui is a standard part of the stock of every up-to-date drug store.

It is not a new, untried, untested, laboratory chemical, manufactured alkaloid, or by-product of coal tar or other new industry.

It has been in use for half a century.

Time has tested it and proved its real, true, genuine merit—in the light, not of a laboratory test tube experiment, but of actual experience and fact.

Cardui is a proven success.

It will pay you to test it for yourself.

Get it at the nearest drug store.

POLICE AFTER FORGER.

Arthur Nelson, who is said to have passed a forged check for $15 on C. E. Walker, a grocer at 302 East Pikes Peak avenue, Monday night, is being sought by the police. The check bore the bogus signature of the Houston Lumber company. Nelson, who was accompanied by a woman, purchased groceries to the amount of 65 cents from Walker and offered the check in payment. The forgery was discovered yesterday when the check was presented at the bank by Walker.

NEGRO MAY BE THIEF.

Booked for investigation, Robert Lee, colored, who was arrested Monday night, is being held at police headquarters. He is suspected of the theft of a revolver, a watch and two watch cases in Denver last summer.

TO REPAIR CROSSING

Announcement has been made by the Colorado Springs and Interurbn Railway company that the work of repairing the street crossing at the corner of Pikes Peak and Cascade avenues, which was made nearly impassable during the recent alteration in the tracks at this point, will be begun at once. Vitrified brick will be laid, it is said.

KEPT PRISONER BY AWFUL HUMOR

Whole Body Covered and Head So Bad She Could Not Comb Hair—Sight Affected Neighbor Begged Her to Use Cuticura—It Cooled the Itching Flesh and

BROUGHT REST, SLEEP AND A PERFECT CURE

"Words cannot express the awful skin disease I suffered with. My whole body was covered with it. My head broke out so that I could not comb my hair. For a month or more I suffered with a terrible sore throat. When I should lie down at night my eyes would stick together and I would have to bathe them before opening them each morning. I scarcely could see for my eyes had failed me from the effect of the skin disease. I tried three doctors, but they gave me no relief and then I tried all kinds of things that I thought would do me good but I could find nothing. I was a perfect prisoner with the awful humor.

"One of my neighbors begged me to try the Cuticura Remedies, and I made up my mind to try them but not thinking that I would ever be cured. I would take a hot bath with Cuticura Soap and then apply the Cuticura Ointment. I found relief in a few days and in a month you could scarcely see a spot on my face. I felt like a new person. When I first began to use the Cuticura Remedies they cooled the itching flesh and brought me real good sleep and rest at night. I had suffered fully two years with the skin disease but now I am a well woman and in good health. I beg every skin sufferer to use the Cuticura Remedies. I cannot praise Cuticura enough because I thought that I would never get well again. Mrs. Cordelia C. Pitts, Newbern, Ga., Nov. 24 and Dec. 21, '08."

Keeping the Hair

To prevent dry, thin and falling hair, remove dandruff, allay itching and irritation and promote the growth and beauty of the hair, frequent shampoos with Cuticura Soap and occasional dressings with Cuticura are usually effective when all other methods fail. Special and full directions accompany each package of Cuticura.

SCHOOL CHILDREN AID IN FEEDING THE NEEDY

Respond Generously to Thanksgiving Appeal of Associated Charities Money Required.

Many a luscious Thanksgiving dinner will tomorrow grace tables that would be bare were it not for the generosity of the school children of the city. Yesterday afternoon, when the youngsters returned home from school, they left behind them wagonloads of food for the poor, and the donations will be greatly enlarged this morning.

The responsibility of providing dinners for those who otherwise would have to go hungry on the day when the world is rejoicing, has been taken in charge by the Associated Charities. The children are requested to leave all supplies at the various schools in time to be collected this morning. The provisions will then be hauled to a store room at 21 East Pikes Peak avenue, which James F. Burns has kindly donated for the occasion, and there sorted over and redistributed.

Anything Is Welcome.

"Almost anything is welcome," said Secretary F. J. Bruno of the Associated Charities yesterday;" among things especially desired are apples, potatoes, meat, canned goods and vegetables. Money also will be collected and used to buy turkeys and additional provisions. We are going to feed 102 families, totaling 320 persons.

"Already $44.50 is either on hand or has been promised, and we ought to have more. Chickens and turkeys alone will cost $60. Judging from past experience, we can depend upon the school children for about $40 cash and provisions to the value of $500. We have gone to great pains in making out our list, and I do not think that there will be any duplicates on it. By this I mean that we shall not give provisions to families who receive them from other sources."

TO CUT DOWN JONES' HILL

Local Automobile Club Plans to Improve Broadmoor Road Other Improvements Planned.

Preliminary steps to reduce the grade of Jones hill on the Broadmoor road were taken yesterday at a meeting at the El [illegible] club of the executive committee of the Automobile club of this city. The club will ask for the co-operation of the county commissioners.

It was also decided to reduce the danger of punctures and other tire damage by sending a wagon out after each windstorm to gather up all broken glass, nails and rubbish that are left exposed on the thoroughfares. The club intends, in the future, to spend more time than ever in boosting good roads.

According to late reports, the club has in its treasury approximately $700, and it is understood that all of this will be spent on roads, in making improvements that are most needed. One action taken at the meeting yesterday was to extend to E. C. van Diest, the well-known civil engineer, an invitation to meet the executive committee next Monday and explain in detail his plans for making the grade less on Jones hill. The club is anxious to commence the work at the earliest date possible.

SAN LUIS FAIR NEXT FRIDAY, NOT TODAY

Date Was Erroneously Announced Many Pleasing Features Have Been Arranged.

The annual fair of the pupils of the San Luis school in aid of the Colorado Springs Day Nursery will be held next Friday from 1:30 to 6 p. m., instead of today, as erroneously announced.

Among the patrons of the school who will assist in the success of the fair are Mrs. Francis W. Goddard, Mrs. Godfrey Kissel, Mrs. M. Clement Gile, Mrs. Franklin E. Brooks, Mrs. Philip B. Stewart and Mrs. Charles Farnsworth.

Appropriately costumed, in the Dutch booth, a bevy of girls will serve tea, coffee, sandwiches, ice cream and cake. Among those serving will be Charlotte Kissel, Ruth Gile, Elizabeth Brooks, Margaret Wilson and Agnes Donaldson.

At the candy booth will be Bertha Armit, Hillary Glen, Mary Casement, and Catherine Brooks, and at the fancy work booth, Alice Farnsworth, Lucile Fisher, Dorothy Price, Ruth Mack and Edith Jackson.

The stationery and calendar booth will be in charge of Eleaner Greenwood, Edith Farnsworth, Billy Farrington and Franklin Brooks.

The toy booth will be in charge of Asa Jones, Worthington Littlefield, James Peck and Thayer Hobson.

A vaudeville program will be given from 3:30 to 4:30 o'clock under the management of Laddie Armit. Grab bags will be in charge of Harry Waters, Harry Karr, Lawrence Barnes, Gardner Jackson and Charles Baldwin.

The young philanthropists always receive the generous support of their friends and are thus enabled to contribute sufficient funds, yearly, to defray the expenses of the free kindergarten of the day nursery. The children have given much time and work in preparation for the fair and deserve much credit for their self-sacrificing efforts.

CAN'T GET TOGETHER

Conference on Scales Question Between City Officials and Merchants Unsatisfactory.

The conference on the proposed scales ordinance between a committee from the Merchants association and City Attorney C. L. McKesson and Commissioner E. W. Frost yesterday afternoon was most unsatisfactory. The merchants objected most strenuously to the proposed ordinance requiring all sales of more than 500 pounds to be weighed on the city scales. The merchants proposed that when quantities of 500 pounds or more are sold by a dealer, the load should be weighed on the dealer's scales by one of his employes. The city's representatives refused to accept the suggestion, and the scale ordinance will probably come before the Council this morning. The Merchants association committee was composed of H. H. Seldomridge, E. J. Ullrich and O. E. Hemenway.

WOMAN GOOD "SCRAPPER"

[illegible] Out All [illegible] Made to [illegible], and [illegible] Is Giant."

"H-a-double-r-i-g-a-n, spells Harrigan, that's me."

Her name wasn't Harrigan, but the words of the great song hit in George Cohan's "50 Miles From Boston" are applicable to the case of a husky Irish woman who yesterday noon won the women's heavyweight championship of the south end of Colorado Springs by landing a knockout blow in her encounter with a colored woman.

The trouble began when the little son of the Irish woman pinched the ear of the colored woman's offspring. The colored woman proceeded to box the ears of the white child, and Mrs. "Harrigan" made her entry into the ring, landing an uppercut on the jaw of her colored opponent. The combatants clinched, and, being at such close range, ceased fighting, and went to pulling hair. The Irishwoman finally downed her opponent, and then fought off two other colored women who came to the assistance of their sister. The combatants finally separated. No warrants were sworn out.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

Thanksgiving dinner will be served at the boarding home, 327 North Weber streets, at 50 cents.

The Christmas fancy work class will not meet this week, but will have its next meeting one week from Friday.

The Rev. Merle Smith will lead the vesper service next Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the association rooms, 409 DeGraff building.

The Bible class will meet as usual Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock, under the leadership of Miss Dice. "The Major Prophets" is the subject of study.

The downtown association classes will be closed on Thanksgiving day and evening. The classes that regularly meet on Thursday will not meet until the following week.

A joint meeting of members of the social committees of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. was held in association rooms that day to plan for a joint New Years party to be held on New Years day and evening at the Y. M. C. A. building. Lunch was served to the members of the committee by the Y. W. C. A. Plans were laid that augur a fine celebration.

Miss Mary Saxelby will visit the association from Friday until Sunday evening. Miss Saxelby is a graduate of the University of Manchester and is now on her way to an association position in China. Miss Saxelby will be the guest of Mrs. C. P. Dodge during her stay in Colorado Springs. Mrs. Dodge will entertain the board of managers in honor of Miss Saxelby, Saturday afternoon at 4:30, at a tea. It is hoped that Miss Saxelby will be present at the vesper service, Sunday afternoon, at 5 o'clock, to greet the association.

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive free the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as sacredly confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.

It is the only medicine of its kind that is the product of a regularly graduated physician. The only one good enough that its makers dare to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. There's no secrecy. It will bear examination. No alcohol and no habit-forming drugs are found in it. Some unscrupulous medicine dealers may offer you a substitute. Don't take it. Don't trifle with your health. Write to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, President, Buffalo, N. Y.,—take the advice received and be well.

RECOVER PLUMB STOPE IN ANCHORIA-LELAND

Lessees on This Property Making Large Shipments of Ore of Good Grade.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo., Nov. 23.—The November production from the Anchoria-Leland mine on Gold hill, is holding at about 30 tons daily, and the tonnage will be the heaviest, during a similar period since the present lessee, F. J. Pettis, took possession. Six sets of sublessees are working under Pettis, and all of these are saving and shipping ore. P. E. Murray, Jr., a Cripple Creek boy, operating a block at the second level north of the shaft, is shipping ore that is returning values of from $40 to $50 a ton, and this lease has loaded out two cars during the present week.

Probably the most important development of recent date on the Anchoria-Leland property has been the recovery of the Plumb stope, between the second and first levels of the main shaft. This ground was lost by a cavein, about five years ago, and until the present lessees, Allen and Beery, took a lease on this block about six weeks ago, no attempt had been made to penetrate the cave. By crosscut midway between the two levels, these miners have gained entrance into the cave and have found hundreds of tons of loose rock, ore and waste. They now bring about 50 tons a day to surface, and one-half of this tonnage, with careful sorting, is of shipping grade.

Numerous applications have been made to Superintendent Howbert for dump leases, but all dumps on the company's estate are held in reserve for treatment at some time in the future when lower rates may prevail, or some new process is introduced for the treatment of low-grade ores.

DANTE HAS DONE WELL.

Leasing Company Surrenders Time, After Having Earned $150,000 Profits.

Special to The Gazette.

INDEPENDENCE, Colo., Nov. 23.—The British-American Mining company, whose lease on the Dante No. 2 shaft of the Dante Gold Mining company expires with the close of the year, is engaged in cleaning up, and will ship about eight cars of ore this month of a fair milling grade. The company will take entire charge of the mine on the expiration of this lease and for the first time in its history will operate on company account, exclusively. The British American company will have earned profits of not less than $150,000 during the last three years.

Special to The Gazette.

ELKTON, Colo., Nov. 23.—The Little Nell Leasing company, operating the Little Nell on the Arequa townsite, south of the Elkton mine, crosscutting at the 500-foot level, has encountered a well-defined vein in the granite west of the shaft and carrying fair values. This vein is believed to be the southern extension of the main Ophir vein, and with development an ore shoot should be reached. The leasing company will start next week to crosscut east to intercept one of the veins extending south from the Elkton mine.

Special to The Gazette.

ELKTON, Nov. 23.—Two cars of ore were billed out yesterday from the Modoc company's main shaft on the Ocean View claim, situated in the saddle between Bull hill and Battle mountain, to the smelter in Pueblo. The ore mined south of the shaft at the 900-foot level is estimated at better than two-ounce grade.

POSTOFFICE OPEN ONE HOUR THANKSGIVING DAY

Postoffice employes will this Thanksgiving enjoy as much of a holiday as it is possible for them to have. Although the mails can not be neglected altogether, it is announced that there will be no carrier delivery tomorrow and that the postoffice will be open only from 10 to 11 o'clock in the morning. No money order business, however, will be transacted.

STOCK PRICES RALLY ON SHORT COVERING

Standard Decision May Cause Abandonment of Plan to Combine Copper Industrials.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The decision against the legality of the Standard Oil company in its present form continued the disturbing influence in the stock market today. It was most acutely manifest in the group of copper industrials. The reason for this is not that those companies are particularly vulnerable to the effect of the decision, but that an animated speculation and sharp advances in prices of those stocks have taken place based on the assumption of a coming consolidation of the copper producers on much the same lines as are prohibited by the court's decision in the Standard Oil case.

Assurances were given yesterday with color of authority that the plans for harmonizing the copper interests would be in no wise affected by the new developments. Today, however, assertions were current that the abandonment of the whole project was being considered pending the final clearing up of the questions involved by the appeal of the Standard Oil case to the highest court.

Eminent corporation lawyers and influential financial leaders seem united in formulating the view that the consequences of the Standard Oil decision would be so dangerous and so harmful that steps will be taken by the lawmaking body to obviate them upon its assembling in December. There is recognized the political difficulty that would arise from what would be, in effect, a bill for the relief of the best hated of all the great corporations in the popular estimation. This consideration raises doubts of the readiness with which relief will be obtained from the evils complained of by the corporations and the sweeping application of the terms of the law to all trade combinations. The discussion of the subject develops the difficulty of shaping a legal requirement which will at the same time permit the advantages of co-operation and economic division and secure the benefits sought from competition.

The declaartion of an extra dividend on Central railroad of New Jersey rallied Reading from its acute depression owing to its share in the benefits through holdings of stocks of Central. The tracing of the course of this disbursement affords an example of the complictions of the interholdings of securities amongst corporations. A rise in New York exchange at Chicago to 25 cents premium showed the relaxation of pressure from the interior upon New York for funds. Foreign exchange rates rose quite strongly.

The short interests built up in course of the decline furnished a sufficient requirement to work an effective rally in prices. Southern Pacific showed some positive strength on the ground of the strong annual report.

Bonds were easy. Total sales, par value, $4,083,000. U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

WHEAT TAKES TUMBLE AFTER STRONG OPENING

Early Unfavorable Crop News From Argentina Is Denied and Profit Taking Ensues.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Fears of a wet harvest in Argentina inspired considerable bullish sentiment in the wheat market during early trading today, but late in the session the market weakened owing to more reassuring news from that country. At the close prices were ⅛ to ⅜@½ below yesterday's closing. Corn and oats closed steady and provisions firm.

Unfavorable crop news from Argentina, which caused a strong opening here, was supplemented by predictions of falling off in the movement of wheat from Russia and by a decrease of 1,708,000 bushels in the European visible supply for the week. These influences held the market strong during the first half of the session, pit traders and commission houses being fair bidders.

In the final hour the market yielded to quite general profit taking brought out by a dispatch from Argentina to a local concern which discredited the earlier advices regarding weather conditions in that country and claimed that clear weather was quite general and that harvesting had begun in the northern districts. The market was also weakened by a decline at Minneapolis and Duluth. The close was almost at the bottom.

Corn was firm early in the day. Later, however, the market eased off in sympathy with wheat. The close was at about the lowest point, with prices unchanged to ⅛@¼ higher.

Trading in oats was extremely light and the market was steady. Prices at the close were a shade lower to ⅛ higher.

Provisions were firm. Prices at the close were 2½ to 15@17½ higher.

ANTICORNER RULE IS DEFFATED

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—The "anticorner" amendment to the rules of the board of trade was defeated at a special ballot today by a vote of 408 to 369. The proposed rule provided that in case of a "squeeze" or "corner" in any commodity, a committee would determine the value of that commodity on final delivery day, and the interested parties would be compelled to settle accordingly. Another clause provided that if a member conducted an unjust deal or "corner," he could be expelled.

HOW TO MAKE FENCE POSTS LAST

Impregnation With Creosote a Cheaper Method of Treatment.

From the Technical World.

How can I reduce my fence post bill? This is a yearly question with every farmer in the country. In regions where timber is scarce and high in price constructing and maintaining fence posts is a source of great expense, and even if there is abundant timber on the farm, the labor of cutting and setting posts is no inconsiderable item. Unless fortunate enough to have at hand some durable wood the farmer is likely to be annoyed by finding a few years after he builds a fence that the posts need renewing.

It has long been known that a thorough impregnation with creosote would preserve timber from decay for a long period of years. In fact, almost indefinitely. Such treatment is commercially practiced with piling, railway cross ties, and other construction timbers, the preservation being injected into the wood in strong cylinders by means of powerful force pumps. This method, known as the "pressure method," brings excellent results, but on account of the expensive machinery involved, the cost is too great for ordinary use in treating fence posts.

A Simple Expedient.

There has therefore grown a demand for some cheap and simple process of wood preservation adapted for timber in common use for which the pressure methods are too expensive. Such a method, known as the "open tank method," has been developed by which, with the use of a simple and cheap apparatus, fence posts and other timbers used on the farm may be successfully treated at small expense. It has been found that by immersing the wood first in a hot and then in a cold liquid, atmospheric pressure will accomplish much of what has been heretofore accomplished by the use of pressure pumps.

For treating fence posts, either one or two tanks are needed, which should be fitted so as to be heated either with steam or with a fire directly underneath. If but one tank is used the posts may be heated in the creosote for several hours; the heat may then be shut off and the posts allowed to cool in the oil until the desired penetration has taken place. If two tanks are used, the posts after being in the hot oil for the required length of time may be transferred to the other tank containing oil which has been warmed only enough to make it thorougly liquid.

Electric engines will haul the ships through the Panama canal when the big ditch is completed.

Out of 206 railway charters granted by the Canadian parliament in the 20 years ended 1909, only 28 have resulted in any construction, 86 have lapsed and the others have received extensions of time.

WANTED MALE HELP.

THERE is a fascination about life at sea which last year caused 60 per cent of the men with good records to re-enlist. Besides the material advantages offered, good pay, steady employment, they find navy life more attractive than routine jobs ashore, because of variety of scene. The conditions on board a spick-and-span battleship are ideal for young men who are fond of the sea, and desire to travel. Navy training broadens them. Their games and recreations, healthy exercise and regular drills, develop quickness, sound health, and self-reliance.

The first four months after enlistment you get the benefit of free instruction at a Navy Training Station. If you have some trade partially learned you may enlist at better pay, perhaps go first to a Navy Trade School. Assurance of advance sent as reward for good work. Costs you nothing to enlist. Apply at Navy Recruiting Office, Alamo Bldg., Denver, Colo.

X-RAY MAKES SCHOOL CHILDREN'S HAIR CURLY

From the San Francisco Chronicle.

The discovery of another remarkable property of the X-rays was announced last night by the chairman of the education committee of the London county council.

Many children in the council's schools had been treated for scalp troubles with X-rays, and it had been noticed, he said, that among the beneficial results of the treatment was this—that it made their hair curl.

The chairman even produced photographs of curly-haired children whose curls were the product of the X-rays, and these were handed for inspection to the members.

If the curls so produced are at all permanent, this discovery will be hailed with delight by those ladies who at present have to depend on unsightly curl-papers and the discomfort of the hot curling tongs to produce a "natural wave" in the hair.

Yet, despite this, the parents of the children treated in the council's schools are inclined to think the treatment injurious, said the chairman. In fact, it had proved generally beneficial.

AEROPLANES AND WHISKERS

From the Washington Star.

Aviator Glenn H. Curtiss, at a dinner in New York, said of an aeroplane that had not flown:

"It isn't enough to call this contrivance an aeroplane. Calling it an aeroplane, you know, won't make it fly.

"Once, in the days of the free silver furore, I heard an orator with long whiskers made a free silver speech.

"'Gents,' said he, 'our country's welfare demands that silver be kept at its face value. If the government marks a dollar a dollar, it follows that it must be worth one hundred cents.'

"'Excuse me, may I ask a question?' shouted a man in the rear of the hall.

"'Certainly, sir,' said the orator.

"'Then,' said the man in the rear, 'if the government marked your whiskers hay would a mule eat them?'"

HOME-COOKED Thanksgiving dinner, 130 E. Huerfano. Tama house, 25 cents.

IMPROVE DRIVEWAY—New concrete is being laid on that part of the Antlers hotel driveway approaching the building from the east.

MASKED BALL at Majestic hall, tonight; four prizes; costumes at hall, all the afternoon. Matinee Thursday, 2:30 to 5:30; dance and prize waltz Thursday night. Fink's orchestra. Strangers welcome.

FAMILY DINNER—The regular guests at the Alta Vista hotel who have not received invitations to take their Thanksgiving dinner elsewhere, have made arrangements with the management to have their dinner served at a family table. For the last two years this custom has proved an enjoyable one and the management is planning on some extra features for tomorrow's dinner.

MARRIAGE LICENSE—A marriage license was issued yesterday to Fred C. Graves of this city and Anna J. Vandenberg of Keokuk, Ia.

MARRIAGE—Mrs. Julia E. Goss and George Lloyd were married Sunday evening at the home of the bride, 107 West Moreno street, Elder W. H. Pilts officiating.

IMPROVING—The condition of County Jailer H. T. Pinnock, who underwent an operation at St. Francis hospital last Saturday, continues to improve.

CLOSES ALL DAY—The Denver and Rio Grande ticket office, 16 North Tejon street, will be closed all day tomorrow. General Agent W. H. Cundey announced last night that tickets and sleeping car reservations may be procured at the depot.

CHANGE IN TIME—The Colorado College football special train, which is to leave for Denver at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning over the Denver and Rio Grande, will leave that city for Colorado Springs at 11:30 o'clock in the evening, instead of at 7:30 o'clock, as was originally planned.

SIMMONS MFG. CO. HAS BIG CAPITALIZATION

The Simmons Manufacturing company, of Kenosha, Wis., of which Z. G. Simmons, well known in this city and Manitou, is principal stockholder, has increased its capital stock from $2,400,000 to $4,000,000. All the new stock has been taken up by existing shareholders. Mr. Simmons, when he comes to Colorado, makes his headquarters in Manitou. He is one of the principal owners and managers of the Pikes Peak Cog road.

A Special Buy of Ladies' and Misses'

Wool Skirts Worth Ordinarily Up To $10

Today Only at the Bargain Square

$3.45

New Fall Dress Skirts, direct to us from a prominent New York maker, and we will say right now it is the greatest snap of the season. New pleated and kilted skirts of wool materials, at $3.45. Some are neatly finished with the small round tailor braid and jet buttons, many are shown in the plain pleated tailor made styles.

There are Panamas, Serges, Diagonals, in white, blues, grays, browns, black and a variety of novelties; the indistinct hair lines, quiet mixtures and such. Many of the materials would ordinarily cost more than we ask for the made skirt. There are only about 175 in all and we doubt if they last the entire day at our price of only, each........... $3.45
